Army Officers Get Much In-

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—
Science saw another dream come true today as preparations were made to "unlock" the secrets of cosmic rays and other phenomena plucked from the air 14 miles up.

Adventure rode with Capt. Albert
W. Stevens and Capt. Orvil A.
Anderson as the world's biggest balloon yesterday reached about 74,000 feet, the greatest height ever attained by man. But victory did not crown the patient preparations of scientists until the gondola of the Explorer II landed safely, with its scientific instruments undamaged, after others had been lowered by parachute.

While in flight, Capt. Stevens broadcast the "spot news" of cosmic rays about 60,000 feet were bombarding the gondola with a frequency 150 times as great as at ground level. He also reported the stratosphere sky "dark blue, almost black."

See New Revelations

Details scientific study of the automatic records made by the instruments carried on the flight are expected to shed new light on the constantly bombarding the earth. Other data will:

Reveal temperature and atmosphere changes in the stratosphere.

Tell more about the blanket of ozone, some 35 miles up, that shields the earth from harmful rays of the sun.

Show whether germs of crop and plant diseases can live at the height reached.

Reveal if the stratosphere, which begins at about 40,000 feet up, is free of bacteria.

Ten cosmic rays, invisible "high speed bullets" which can pierce 75 feet of lead, pass through the body of every person every second, according to Dr. W. F. G. Swann, chief designer of the apparatus carried by the Explorer II to capture

PA NEW OBSERVES

Finding a place to park an auto north of Washington street in the business section of the city last night was some job. With the return of the rain, the Explorer II, the men's meeting at the First Presbyterian church, the firemen's dance at the cathedral and the band concert at the senior high school, in addition to the usual events that bring crowds downtown, there was a huge demand for parking space.

The weather man did slightly better by the veterans yesterday than a year ago. On Armistice Day, 1934, it was quite cold and snowed a little,
in addition to the rain. Yesterday it merely rained. It seems that it rains about four out of every five Armistice Days.

Suburban Day Again Wednesday

Its back again folks, Suburban Day, and Wednesday, November 13 is the day this month.

The day of bargains in clothes and shoes and food and jewelry.
The day when the thrifty housewife can come down town with a couple of dollars and go home with a bundle of stuff that would ordinarily cost twice as much.

Something like fifty New Castle merchants co-operate to make Suburban Day a success and every month it has been progressively successful. Merchants feel the rise in the cash register receipts and shoppers get more than they can get for their money on any other day.

Suburban Day is not only for the shoppers outside of New Castle. It is for the shoppers in New Castle and all points east and west. It is a day when the merchants sacrifice profits to build good will and the building gets larger every month.

Not a bad idea to prepare for tomorrow's bargains now. The housework isn't that important and the bridge club doesn't have to have you there. Far more important to save money on purchases you have to make, and Suburban Day is the day to make them.

So that's that shoppers. It's your chance to show a surplus in the budget this month, a chance to get those things you have been after and if you miss out it isn't anybody's fault but your own.

Stratosphere Fliers Cautious On Claims For Record Ascent

(International News Service)

WHITE LAKE, S. D., Nov. 12.—
"We may have gone 73,000 or 74,000 feet and then again we may not."

With caution bred by the army that demands you don't say or do anything until you're sure, Capt.
Albert W. Stevens commented in that way today on yesterday's spectacular stratosphere flight.

And it was pretty plain that both he and his intrepid companion, Capt. Orvil Anderson, pilot of the huge balloon, were pretty nearly leaving over backward in their attempt not to be too enthusiastic.

The two spent a well-earned rest after yesterday's lofty venture, at a hotel in nearby Kimball. Today they planned to supervise loading of the tremendous canvas bag and nine-foot metal ball that served as their gondola into trucks for storage at Dayton, O.

Afterward the fliers intend to return to their Rapid City base and superintend removal of other paraphernalia incidental to the flight.
Before they get back to their army

ITALIAN TROOPS PUSHING SOUTH

MAKALE, Ethiopia, Nov. 12.—
Ethiopian troops are massing west and south of Amba Alagi, 40 miles south of here, scouting planes reported today. It is believed that the Italian commanders believed aerial reconnaissance methods will once again disperse them bloodlessly.

Ras Seyum, whose warriors practically refused to fight at Makale, is rallying them again in the mountains of Togorao, westward of Am-ba Alagi, trying to revive their morale, shattered by swooping Italian bombing airplanes.

Other, smaller, bands of Ethiopians have been spotted south of Amba Alagi.

Push South of Makale

As Italian troops have pushed miles south of Makale, clashing in one instance with an Ethiopian camel train, and other forces have scoured the mountains west of here. Other divisions moved farther south on the west flank. Otherwise reports early today indicated the northern front was quiet.

Italians accused Ethiopians today of threatening to use poison gas to supplement their Guerilla activities. A supply of the deadly lethal gas Yprite passed through the Suez Canal aboard a steamer and has arrived in Ethiopia, it was alleged.

Ethiopians were also accused of killing an Arab at Harar who expressed his sympathy for Italy, and his body was allegedly exhibited publicly as an example to others.

Ras Gugga, now installed as governor of Tigre Province in the imperial capital here, recovered his wife and mother, whom he deserted cause with 15,000 men, it was learn-

Martins Ferry Sends Letter Of Appreciation For Treatment Here

New Castle made a good impression on Martins Ferry, last Satur-

A letter received by Fred L.

the tin mill men and the townspeople of Martins Ferry who were here for the grid game.

Never has a finer display of sportsmanship been shown in New

Martins Ferry is planning a cele-

The following letter reveals that Martins Ferry was well pleased with the spirit shown here.

Large Government Subsid-

Secure Contract

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—While the Iron and Steel Institute was reported prepared to meet here today to discuss the situation, protests against the use of German-made steel in PWA projects continued to grow.

Protests were heard from city officials, labor leaders and congressmen.

The storm was precipitated by reports of PWA approval of a contract for German steel to be used in constructing the $65,000,000 tri-borough bridge, linking Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens.

Nathan Burkan, attorney, announced he would go before the triborough bridge authority, of which he is a member, today, and insist that henceforth all materials used in the construction of the bridge be American-made.

Order Held Up.

While Burkan was making his announcement, Col. W. H. Hudson, engineer in charge of construction for the authority, declared that approval of the order for the German steel was being held in abeyance pending word from Washington.

The Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi league, of which Samuel Untermyer is president, dispatched a telegram to Public Works Administrator Ickes, urging him to halt the use of German steel on federal projects.

The telegram read: "Strongly protest of all liberty-loving Americans' attention to the use of German steel."

Quiz Ex-Suitor, Fiance In Bride-To-Be's Death

RICHARD TEAR

CORINNA LORING

Two men, one an ex-suitor, were held by Mount Ranier, Md., police for questioning in the mysterious slaying of 26-year-old Corinna Loring, right, two days before she was to marry. Miss Loring's fiance, Richard Tear, 29-year-old ex-marine, left, was one of two men detained by police. Tear protested his innocence but police held him for further investigation. The other man held, Aubrey Hampden, was arrested in Washington. Officials refused to say what evidence they had that might connect him with the Loring slaying. Miss Loring's body was found in a thicket near her home several days after she had been reported missing. She had been strangled to death.

Hunt For Two Women In Near-Bride's Slaying

(International News Service)

MT. RANIER, Md., Nov. 12.—Two women, one identified as a former mental patient, were sought today in connection with the beating and strangulation of Miss Corinna Loring, 26, Monday night, three days before she was to have married Richard Tear, 28, of Washington.

The former patient, police said, became infatuated with Tear during the course of his duties as an attendant at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

The second woman was described as having been very friendly with Miss Loring.

With the arrival here of Baltimore detectives, assigned to the case by Governor Nice, the theory developed that the girl was not beaten and garroted in the woods here where her body was found Saturday. At least one man said he traversed the place several times during the week and that the body was not there.

Meanwhile Tear and Aubrey
Hampden, 30, a former suitor of Miss Loring, were held for questioning.
Tear was detained in jail Saturday while Hampden was picked up Sunday. No charges have been placed against them but the police said they will be held until their movements Monday night are thoroughly checked.

Members of the girl's family will face the interrogators during the day. So far they had been spared extensive questioning because of their grief. George Loring, the father, works for the state highway commission.

Tear asked two of his brothers to get him a "couple of detective story magazines" when they asked if he wanted anything.

Italian Note Does Not Feaze Great Britain

BRITAIN BELIEVES MUSSOLINI WORRIED

France Is Somewhat Per-

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Italian note of warning on sanctions, containing the double-barrelled threat of retaliation and withdrawal from the League of Nations, failed to feaze official Britain today.

Instead of deterring Britain from her course of full application of all league penalties, the note if anything served to urge the British to act more forcefully than ever because of the belief the Italian communication revealed Italy to be feverishly on the defensive in the current crisis.

Italy, according to the view expressed in official circles, has found herself at her wits' end at the imminence of sanctions, due to be applied by almost the entire world next Monday, and at having been allowed to penetrate far into Ethiopia without a single decisive battle being fought.

Mussolini Worried

The combination of the Ethiopian strategy in avoiding fighting and of the united front of the league has given Premier Benito Mussolini far more than he looked for in first planning his African venture, according to the British view.

Britain does not intend to lose this advantage.

"There is not the faintest idea in any quarter of postponing sanctions," a high official stated today.
"The protest will have no effect on this."

The British believe the note,

Of Them On Trip

Prothonotary Elect, John A. Ed-short hunting trip to the Northwest hunting camp at Keweenaw, Clearfield county, brings back good news for prospective deer hunters.

Deer, according to Edgar, are very plentiful. He estimates that he saw over one hundred during his trip.
Some of them were seen at a distance, but others were quite tame, seeming to be aware that it was not the open season for them yet.

Accompanying Mr. Edgar on the trip were the following persons: C.
B. White, Robert White, William
Wilson, B. H. Wilson, James Min-

Find Cause For Airplane Crash At Dayton Field

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The recent crash of the giant Boeing bomber at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio, with the loss of one life, was attributed as due to the locked condition of the rudder and elevator surface controls by a special investigating board of Air Corps officers, whose report was made public by the War Department today.

"The direct cause of the crash was the locked condition of the rudder and elevator surface controls (primarily the latter) which made it impossible for the pilot to control the airplane," the official report said.

RESCUE WORK HAMPERED

Raging Seas Prevent Efforts To Reach Freighter On Rocks

NUMEROUS SHIPS ARE STANDING BY

(International News Service)
MANILA, P. I., Nov. 12.—Their rescue hampered because of raging seas some 50 passengers and members of the freighter Silver Hazel, which went aground in the treacherous San Bernardino Straits yesterday, today cowered on the rocks near the wrecked vessel as they were lashed by a bitter wind and rain.

The U. S. destroyer Perry, which arrived yesterday afternoon, made several vain attempts to launch small boats in an effort to rescue the stricken men and women. So rough were the waves the tiny boats were tossed about like corks. The U. S. S. Bulmer was dispatched from here today to aid the Perry in rescuing the marooned victims.

One report said the Perry managed to transfer food to those on the sea swept rocks.

More Ships Near
The Governor Taft and the S. S. Tana were standing by to aid in the rescue work.

The Chicago Maru was damaged yesterday when it was buffeted in the storm as it attempted to aid the Silver Hazel.

The United States Steamship company's New York left the scene today and proceeded toward San Francisco after messaging it was unable to aid.

Passengers on the Silver Hazel were listed as Mrs. C. C. Windham, Mrs. Neil Williams and Mrs. H. N. Zerling, all of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bissinger, San Francisco.

Circumstances surrounding the wrecking of the British vessel were not immediately made known but it was presumed the ship crashed on the rocks during the storm when it apparently was thrown off its course by a heavy wind.

The 3000-ton freighter was enroute to Manila from Portland, Ore., went it went aground.

The brief radio dispatches received here, 47 members of the crew, including several passengers, remained on the rocks.

The rescue was exceedingly difficult as a fierce wind, of gale proportions, endangered the raft as it tossed around on the lashing waves.

Rescue Three
Manila, P. I., Nov. 12.—Three persons, out of a party of 50 men and women marooned on the treacherous rocks of San Bernardino Straits when the Silver Hazel grounded during a storm, were rescued late today when a life raft was safely maneuvered through the mountainous seas.

After hours of fruitless attempts the raft, from the Trabajaador, a stevedoring boat, managed to reach the storm swept rocks, and the three wreck victims, suffering from exposure, were slowly returned to the ship.

London Nov. 11.—A thousand Ethiopian warriors were sighted by Italian airplanes today digging trenches south of Seelicot, between Makale and Amba Alagi, apparently with the object of covering the Ethiopian retreat and holding up the Italian advance to permit the Ethiopians to retire safely. Reuters reported from Addis Ababa.

With the exception of native scouting expeditions, however, the Italians have no intentions at present of penetrating farther south of Makale.

Sounds Warning

Recalling that civilization in reality is not too far removed from the more barbarous life, Dr. Vance declared that "the nearness of the jungle to the garden is true in the spiritual world as it is in human nature."

He sounded a sharp warning that of late "the jungle has been crowding into the garden."

Dr. Vance came here from Pittsburgh to be the honor guest of the men of the Shenango presbytery at their annual fellowship dinner, a dinner event which brings laymen and clergy together from some 29 churches. Most of the 29 were represented last night.

Gilbert E. Long, chairman of the committee of laymen in charge of the dinner, presided. He is president of the fellowship group.

The invocation was pronounced by Mont L. Alley. Pep singing was led by Richard E. "Dick" Johns and early and late in the evening program Mr. Johns and the Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, sang appreciated duets. "In the Cross of Christ 1 Glory," and "Hope in God." Thomas H. Webber, Jr., organist at the First Presbyterian, was the piano accompanist for the duets and the general singing.

Extends Welcome

George W. Ramsey extended a warm welcome to the visiting men for the First Presbyterian church and E. C. Hulbert, secretary of the fellowship union, called the roll of churches.

Dr. Vance's address was purely informal and was loaded with humor. Most of it, however, was devoted to a plea for "better" and more understanding Christians.

The Rev. Arthur M. Stevenson, of Ellwood City's First Presbyterian church pronounced the benediction. Dr. Vance tonight will appear before a similar Presbyterian men's rally in Beaver Falls and will make nightly appearances in New Jersey and Pennsylvania before returning to his own First Presbyterian church, of Detroit late in the week. He is the president of the Presbyterian Board of National Mission as well as moderator of the general assembly of a church having a fellowship of 1,900,000 members and the pastor for the past 24 years of the Detroit church of 2,000 members. He was elected moderator last May at Cincinnati.

Churches as far north as Sharon and as far south as Enon Valley sent men to hear their leader last night. Dr. John McIlvaine, First Presbyterian pastor, and men of the church, greeted them upon arrival. The dinner was served by the ladies of the McClure Bible class. Wvz. [h] Ff E (s) m...

Despondent Girl Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 12.—Funeral arrangements were made today for despondent, 17-year-old Mary Bevel, of Oliver No. 3, who took her life with a shotgun in the home of Albert Baird, of Duck Hollow, near here, where she was employed as a domestic.

For weeks, according to authorities, the girl had threatened suicide. Yesterday she placed a shotgun at her side and pulled the trigger.

Rushed to the Uniontown hospital the dying girl moaned: "No one cared for me since my mother died. Please let me die; I can't live without my mother."

The girl's mother died a year ago.

Job, which probably would be far from routine for the ordinary person, they'll undoubtedly be called to Washington to help interpret scientific data and give their own observations in detail to the National Geographic society, co-backers of the flight.

If the beliefs of the airmen are confirmed, they have established a new world's record in height. The official mark at present set by the Settle-Fordney expedition in 1933 at 61,236 feet. Three Russian scientists are believed to have risen to 72,716 feet in 1934, but they were killed when the bag burst high in the air, crashing them to the earth.

Balloon Undamaged

Kimball, S. D., Nov. 12.—Another record-breaking stratosphere balloon attempt became a definite possibility today when Capt. A. W. Stevens pronounced the Explorer II fit in every respect for another flight.

Undamaged except for the patch fastened to it at the take off, the balloon is not only capable of another flight, but could make an additional 1,000 feet altitude in the rarified atmosphere more than fourteen miles above the earth, he said.

Without making any commitments that would involve his sponsors, the National Geographic society and the Army Air Corps, and speaking also for Capt. Orvil Anderson, Capt. Stevens said:

"As far as we are concerned, we would be perfectly willing and even glad to make another flight."

When the balloon reached an unofficial height of slightly more than 74,000 feet yesterday, eclipsing all previous official and unofficial altitude records, it was within about 1,000 feet of its maximum, Capt. Stevens stated.

"We still had some ballast aboard and could have gone higher," he declared.

To Determine Official Mark

The precious triple-recording instrument upon which the official altitude of the balloon which soared over South Dakota and Nebraska yesterday will be determined today in the hands of Dr. W. G. Brombacher.

Dr. Brombacher planned to leave with the "super-altimeter," which hung on a cable forty feet below the balloon and also recorded temperature, for Washington, D. C., by train at 10 a. m. today. The official record will be determined at Washington.

Capt. Stevens said he had aboard the Explorer II, yesterday six devices for determining altitude, the most dependable of which aside from the one taken by Dr. Brombacher was a mercury column. The mercury indicated about 74,000 feet altitude.

Capt. Stevens and Capt. Anderson were busy today assisting in packing their equipment for shipment, the balloon to Dayton, O., and the scientific instruments for Washington, D. C. Later they presumed, they too will go to Washington.

WHO CARES?

The Hollywood magnate told an assistant in his opinion a certain writer was the only man for a film they had under consideration. The assistant was tactfully doubtful. "Don't you think, perhaps, he's a little too caustic?" he suggested. "Do I care how much he costs?" demanded the producer. "Get him!"

times exactly one week before sanctions are to be applied, had four aims:

1. To break the solid League of Nations front.
2. To warn that Italy will leave the league if pressed.
3. To announce Il Duce's determination to continue his conquest of Ethiopia.
4. To repeat the threat made previously regarding the gravity of consequences which would follow measures contemplated by Italy.

Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, and Premier Mussolini were scheduled to hold a conference regarding the Anglo-Italian tension which was regarded as most important in high quarters. The British foreign office denied specifically a report that an Anglo-French formula had been reached whereby the non-Anharic provinces of Ethiopia would be placed under a league mandate, with Italy having a mandate over part of the territory.

"There is no new plan of any kind," it was stated officially.

France Considers Note

Paris, Nov. 12.—The Italian note of warning against application of sanctions struck French diplomatic circles as a bomb-shell.

The French ministerial council discussed the note at great length in an important meeting today at which Premier Pierre Laval outlined the entire foreign situation. At the same time the foreign office, in conjunction with the ministries of agriculture, commerce and finance, was studying possible repercussions in France when the league penalties program goes into effect next Monday.

A French reply will be drafted and probably transmitted to Rome within the next few days. International News Service learned, although foreign office activity nominally is at a standstill due to the pressure of internal politics.

Meanwhile consultations are going on telephonically between Paris, London and capitals of other sanctionist countries.

Premier Mussolini's threat to quit the league of nations is not taken seriously here yet.

NEW ULTIMATUM GIVEN CHINESE

Kwantung (Continental) army was expected to "execute an important mission in a day or two" to abolish what the army considers a threat to North Chinese peace.

Situation Grave

The situation was regarded by foreign observers in Tokyo as extremely grave, there being a definite possibility of a recurrence of the Shanghai war of several years ago.

Following are the foreign office's four demands as formulated by Koki Hirota, Japanese foreign minister:

1. Arrest and punishment of those responsible for the slaying of a Japanese blue-jacket in Shanghai last Saturday.
2. Apology of the mayor of Shanghai, Wu Teh-Chen.
3. Guarantee of future protection of Japanese lives and property.
4. Press dispatches from Shanghai reported Japanese army and navy officials on the mainland were adopting measures to be applied independently on the foreign office's demands "if the situation warrants."

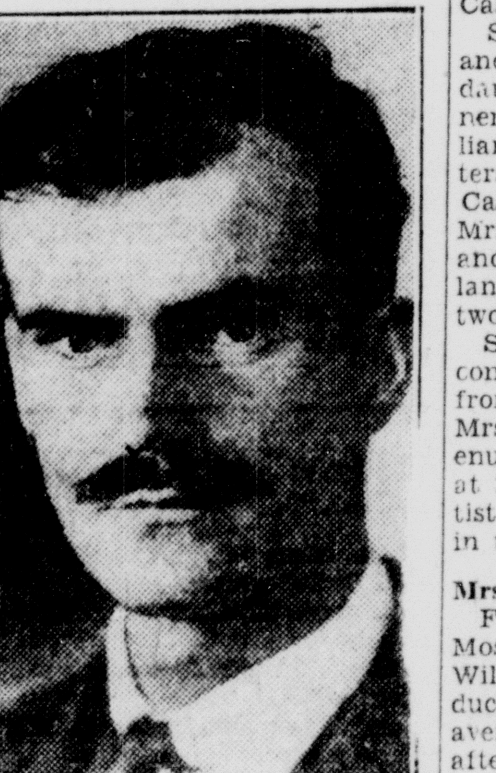

The Kwantung army was expected to take action in a few days, regarding maintenance of peace in North China as Japan's own responsibility. The foreign office was expected to be ignored by these army leaders.

Foreign circles in Tokyo believed that unless there comes a halt in the anti-Japanese movements in Shanghai there will arise swiftly a dreadful reputation of the previous Shanghai war.

They believed this despite the fact the foreign office was trying to maintain an attitude of outward calm. It was based on the apparent fact the army and navy forces are operating and planning without asking for or getting advice from foreign office diplomats.

FELL OFF A CLOUD

An old lady was walking along a street when a young man ran out of a house, charged to the edge of the pavement, jumped into the air, and fell into the gutter.

As he picked himself up, she asked: "What on earth are you trying to do?"

"Well, you see," replied the youth, "my girl has just promised to marry me, and I am so happy that I forgot I hadn't come on my bicycle."

SCIENCE EXPECTS TO LEARN SECRETS OF COSMIC RAYS

and count these rays in the stratosphere.

To Clear Up Some Mystery

Scientists believe the flight will clear up some of the mystery about what these "cosmic bullets" are and where they come from. Dr. Arthur H. Compton, eminent physicist, believes cosmic rays are electrically charged particles. Prof. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology, regards them as a creative force—"The birth cries of new matter."

But the belief that science expects to tap enormous new energy sources through "harnessing" cosmic rays has been derided by Dr. Swann, who is associated with the Bartol research foundation.

Data on temperature conditions broadcast during the flight by Capt. Stevens bore out his report to the National Geographic society, after his stratosphere voyage July 28, 1934, when the balloon burst at 60,000 feet and he finally had to "ball out" with parachute.

Temperature Falls Rapidly

"Temperature falls rather rapidly as one leaves the earth's surface, and at 20,000 feet or 25,000 feet it is sure to be below zero, fahrenheit, even in summer time," he wrote. "As one ascends still higher the temperature drops even faster, until it gets down to about 75 degrees below zero, fahrenheit."

"After that, the air gets gradually warmer. This turning point, or inversion of temperature, occurs at about 50,000 feet above the earth's surface."

Samples of stratosphere air collected yesterday will offer interesting comparison with latest studies on the upper air, just reported from England. Scientists there sent "toy" balloons aloft, carrying tiny glass "traps," which captured air samples 13 miles up and automatically sealed them. Analysis showed that the stratosphere at that height contained 8 per cent more helium, the same type Surprise For Lawyers.

Lead Others? How?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

RED CROSS doctors will find surprises in Ethiopia. According to Dr. Martine, French surgeon of one of the two hospitals in Abyssinia, natives want native cures.

A disease must run its course, or the devil that causes it, locked up in the body, will be compelled to devour the patient's soul to free the evil spirit.

Ethiopians prefer witch doctors, magic and sorcery to iodine or surgery. Hydrophobia, very common, is cured, Ethiopian fashion, by a mixture of herbs and dog's hair. The patient must not cross a running stream during convalescence. Pasteur's cure would not be acceptable.

Leprosy, widespread, is caused by a slap from the devil or by entering religious sanctuaries reserved for the clergy.

The "bedside manner" of the "quouquicha," or witch doctor, and the "tarro," or magician, would amaze our medical lady specialists. Ethiopia's doctor sits by his patient, howling, shrieking for all the spirits on earth and in the air to come and help.

Then a black or red goat is brought in, its throat cut as a sacrifice and the patient must swallow 12 different cuts of raw meat from the goat's hot carcass.

Next come the Coptic priests. Taking turns, for hours, they chant the psalms, attaching amulets containing written texts to "the places that hurt."

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—There are two kinds of Democratic victories. There is the kind in New York City—and the kind in Kentucky. The kind in Kentucky is in pro-New Deal. The kind in New York is not.

And thereby hangs the Roosevelt problem.

From now until election he will be bound to the Democratic machines of New York, Boston, Chicago. They will have it within their power to exert a certain domination over the president.

The same will be true of any Republican, in his own party. If he seeks the presidential nomination, he will either bow to the will of the Republican machines of New York state, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan or he will have to make a desperate uphill fight.

Thus 1936 is likely to prove to be a year of reaction.

POSSIBILITIES

There is, of course, the possibility that President Roosevelt will strike out and appeal directly to the people. But his "full dinner pail" utterances do not lead to that conclusion.

Then, too, on the Republican side, Senator William E. Borah may upset the machines by a direct appeal—particularly in the regions west of the Mississippi.

GUESSING ON ECONOMICS

The 1936 election probably will turn on the economic situation.

There are many conflict views as to whether business will improve consistently from now until November, 1936.

One of the best-known writers on economics, Marshall S. Stewart, writing in The Nation, gives this analysis of the present recovery (containing some views which are not accepted by either major political party):

"The tardiness of American recovery is doubtless due in part to the fact that the United States suffered more severely from the world crisis than any other country. The depression was the result of our attempted defiance of economic law, and we paid heavily for it."

"But in addition there can be no question that many of the policies of the New Deal have retarded the normal upward swing of the economic cycle."

"Almost every error known to economic science has been committed. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been squandered in maintaining an unbalanced structure so that the real return to bondholders might be increased."

"Agricultural and industrial production has been limited or reduced at the expense of living standards."

"Under the New Deal the conflict between these forces has become sharper than at any time in our history. The character of our recovery depends on the outcome of this struggle."

Notable Nativities—Joseph Hopkinson, b. 1770, lawyer who founded in Philadelphia the first fine arts academy in the country and the American Philosophical society. He was 28 when he wrote the song, "Hail Columbia." Elizabeth Cadogan Stanton, b. 1815, pioneer equal suffrage worker. The first woman's rights convention in the world was held in her home in Jamestown, N. Y. She ran for congress 54 years before women could vote, and men voted for her. ... Edward Higgins, b. 1864, retired commander-in-chief of Salvation Army.

Today's Yesterdays—Nov. 12, 1648—Edward Vernon was born. As British admiral he won so great a victory over the Spaniards at Porto Bello that enthusiastic Englishmen voted him three surnames in parliament. His sobriquet, "Old Grog," remains as the name of the tippie he introduced into the navy composed of tea and rum.

Nov. 12, 1775—Montreal became an American city. It was captured by Brig. Gen. Richard Montgomery, with 300 men. It was to remain under the U. S. flag until the following June.

Montgomery, only U. S. general ever to invade Canada successfully, was son of a member of British parliament and a former British army officer. When he was killed at the height of his success, Edmund Burke in parliament contrasted the condition of the 8,000 British soldiers, starved, disgraced and shut up in Boston, with the movements of the hero who in one campaign had conquered two-thirds of Canada.

Nov. 12, 1921—President Harding opened the limitation of armaments conference in Washington.

Every nation represented in the conference has spent more money on armaments now than it was then.

Writing Wrongs—You're wrong if you believe—

That a melting block of ice becomes warmer as the melting progresses.

"It doesn't, as any physics student can tell you," writes Horace Hooks, Brooklyn, N. Y.

That atmosphere is the best conductor of radio waves.

Best conductor of signals is water; second best is ground.

That most movie studios and movie stars' homes are in Hollywood.

Actually, the principal studios are in other localities nearby, and stars in general live away from Hollywood.

"Tens of millions of dollars have been jammed into the pockets of a few silver producers, even though the policy has brought ruin to China."

"Under the guise of tariff reform, a series of trade adjustments has been signed which tends to accentuate the maladjustments of American commercial policy."

"A monetary program has been followed which, though it gives temporary relief to American business, has resulted in the accumulation of billions of dollars of useless gold and intensification of deflation in the gold-standard countries."

"Monopoly and price fixing have been encouraged, even though it has been demonstrated that these practices were among the chief causes of our downfall. The nullification of the NRA has mitigated some of these errors, but the full effect of most of the others will not be felt for some time to come."

"Governmental expenditures of any kind are stimulating in their immediate effect on business, but organized raids on the treasury must ultimately lead to inflation to increase taxes to match its unprecedented largess."

A SHARP CONFLICT

Mr. Stewart continues: "Machinery civilization has engendered two conflicting tendencies in economic organization which have gradually become irreconcilable."

"On the one hand, the growth of large-scale production has eliminated competition from large sectors of our economic structure and thereby increased the temptation to rig prices. The result has been that many business enterprises have failed to pass on the benefits of technical improvements in the form of lower prices for consumers."

"Instead of stimulating production through increased purchasing power, each advance in technique has meant that money which formerly went to labor was diverted to stockholders. With the resulting concentration of wealth has come a centralization of economic power against which even the most liberal governments have been powerless."

"Parallel with this development, another equally far-reaching and important has taken place. Faced by growing insecurity, the working class has sought and to a certain degree obtained regulation of hours, wages and working conditions, together with protection against the standards of sickness, unemployment, and old age. While the demand for security clashes fundamentally with the lust for profits, it carries a promise of stability and order which our economic system sorely needs."

"Under the New Deal the conflict between these forces has become sharper than at any time in our history. The character of our recovery depends on the outcome of this struggle."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE UNPAID NOTES

We found them in his desk, in a bundle tied with string. Unpaid notes of friends and strangers as the years were taking wing.

Some were faded and were yellow; some bore names we'd never guessed. But they all gave testimony to the great heart he possessed.

Then our eyes this simple message in his own hand, fell upon: "I forgot these while I lived! You forget them when I'm gone!"

Ranged the sums from much to little, gladly given to men in need; Every scribbled bit of paper calling back some gracious deed.

There were those, the lawyer whispered, who could pay their debts; and should. There were others who'd have done so, but he knew they never could.

He was sure some day we'd find them, so he passed this message on: "I forgot these while I lived; you forget them when I'm gone."

Now, the more I think about it much the more I'm inclined To think only selfish natures die and leave no notes behind.

What a horrible conclusion to have clung to all you've made And have never loaned a dollar that was not on time repaid! "I forgot these," thus he told us, "you forget them when I'm gone!"

So we followed his instructions and we burned them every one.

Bible Thought For Today

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.—Psalm 34:13.

"OF THEE I SING"

EXAMPLES of inconsistency in government are so numerous at the present time that they have become too common to excite comment. But even in these times of alphabetic experiments, governmental waste and administrative hysteria, the latest development calls forth the most vigorous criticism on the part of American labor and capital.

It is the ordering of German steel for some PWA projects. One can hardly believe that such a thing could be done in times like these, but the PWA administration naively explains it away by saying that the "protection of American labor is not the PWA's province."

It was assumed that the PWA was a part of the government. It was also assumed that PWA projects were for the purpose of putting American labor to work. Apparently someone is mistaken.

Certainly German steel is cheaper than United States steel. It should be. Cheap labor and discriminatory freight rates on German vessels make it possible to undersell American steel products.

But if the NRA was honest in its purpose, wasn't it the purpose of that lately deceased body to keep up American wages? The steel industry complied with the NRA to the letter and is still complying to the spirit of it. Wages have been kept at a higher standard than foreign workman and the heavy metals industry as a whole has done much towards keeping unemployment as low as possible.

Under what process of reasoning can American industry on one hand be expected to keep wages high, increase employment, and then have the very contracts created by government to spur employment taken away from them because of the underbidding of foreign manufacturers. There is no reason for accepting foreign bids on any product that is manufactured in America, for any government job. If American industry on its own government jobs is going to be forced to meet foreign competition, with its lower prices made possible by low wage rates and government shipping subsidies, then there is scant hope for success of plans to increase private employment by government projects that involve the heavy metal industries of this nation.

In the meantime every American organization, civic, fraternal, or labor should aid in sending such a vigorous protest to Washington that those responsible in the capitol city will give heed.

THE TREATY OF GREENVILLE

Back on August 3, 1795, a treaty was signed at Greenville, O., that ranks now as one of the most important treaties ever to be entered into by the United States of America. The treaty was between this government and the Indians of the northwest territory. Under the terms of the treaty the Indians ceded to the United States all lands north of Ohio to the lakes and east of the Mississippi.

The treaty atoned for the humiliation of the defeat at Fort Recovery in 1791, stopped the violations of the Paris treaty of 1783, forced the British to surrender the forts at Detroit, Michilimackinac and other places and was in reality the closing chapter of the American Revolution.

All of this was brought about by the victory of Mad Anthony Wayne at Fallen Timbers in 1794, and the development of the middle west can be laid to the signing of the Treaty of Greenville.

This nation has been lax in recognizing the debt of gratitude it owes for that splendid piece of work. Realizing this Congressman Frank L. Klobb introduced House Joint Resolution 387 in the last session of congress authorizing the building of a memorial in Greenville, O.

The resolution was not passed but it should be among the first to come out of the hopper in the next session. This nation can never forget Mad Anthony Wayne and it is little enough to commemorate such a sterling service as the Treaty of Greenville by a memorial.

OLD HOBBIES RECALLED

Hobbies of their past years probably found echoes in the minds of many persons who read of the exhibition of amateur miniature newspapers at the New Jersey Historical Society. It is a display that represents one phase of the activities of the boys of 1872, an outlet for inhibitions, the safety valves of which, today, are the making of model airplanes or the capturing of spiders and bats for competition in a pet show.

Recalling the fads and fancies of sixty years ago, one may mention the collection of "bows," a pastime prevalent when the little newspapers were coming out. To collect bows all that was needed was a notebook and a pencil. Boys and girls would accost strangers in the street and say: "Please bow to me." At the end of a definite period the one who had registered the most bows was champion. The girls went in for this form of hobby more strongly than did their brothers, who were endeavoring to note in their books the names of as many different steam locomotives as possible. This was in the days when the engines bore the names of railroad officials.

Collectors of strange stones and beautiful butterflies vied with others who filled boxes with many kinds of women's dress buttons, some of which were very gay in the gayer nineties. And with a sigh for one's lost youth there may be recalled the outdoor sport of looking for a white horse as soon as a red-haired girl was observed. It was claimed that the two were always sighted simultaneously.

The ideal wife is one smart enough to help you succeed and dumb enough to think you a wonder.

A free country is one where 90 per cent of the voters obey rules demanded by the 10 per cent who scare congress.

From the way the game is going at present, it looks very much as though good old Ethiopia's goal posts are in danger.

One circumstance of the impending European conflict, at least, is advantageous to the cause of American peace. It is brewing at a time when we can still remember the horrors of the last war, and are beginning to discover its futility.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A NEGATIVE ENTRY

The skipper of a tramp steamer, in writing up the log recording an eventful day, rounded off his task with the entry, "Mate intoxicated."

To the mate, who indignantly protested on reading it, the skipper retorted, "Well, it's true, ain't it?"

On the following day it was the mate's duty to write up the log, and he completed his account with, "Skipper sober."

The captain stared at it for a moment, then exploded.

"Well, it's true, ain't it?" was the mate's rejoinder.

Weekly Health Talk

"NO"—A HEALTH FACTOR

"It safely can be said that the power to say 'no' has much to do with life's success. The real giants with life's endeavors, as well as many of the lesser lights, refuse to follow the line of least resistance, are not deterred by the allurements of the moment, concentrate on the day's task, and thus achieve. This fundamental ability is not only of great advantage in business, but in the realm of health also," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, State Secretary of Health.

"Consider stimulants, for example. Coffee, tea and tobacco are so generally used that it is difficult for some fully to appreciate that over-indulgence can be harmful, and that even in their moderate use there may be a physical disadvantage to a comparatively small minority. While this statement by no means is to be considered as a general indictment against such stimulants, it is a suggestion to those who over-indulge to exercise will-power. In such cases it can be exercised most profitably. And to that type of person who is particularly sensitive to stimulants, will-power should come to the front to eliminate even a mild addiction."

"Again, will-power is quite often needed by those who are overweight and whose fondness for too much food is the sole cause of their condition. Instead of listening to fanatical or semi-fanatical recommendations of acquaintances, will-power that will result in a cutting down in the portions of all types of foods, in due time, will reduce the poundage and thus increase the possibilities for a more vigorous and healthy life."

"Once more, will-power that sends the busy man or woman of sedentary habits out into the open for a daily two-mile walk, and dictates a reasonable adherence to the 'sufficient sleep' rule, can only result in definite physical benefit to those capable of applying it."

"Conversely, it is the lack of will-power to break health-wrecking habits, or to establish constructive health plans, that has meant to thousands the missing of the supreme vitality and joy of living. In short, reasonably applied will-power is one of the fundamental secrets of health success."

TODAY'S STORYETTE

An English clergyman tells this one on himself. A dignified old lady, ascending the steps of his church, had difficulty with her breathing, and asked his assistance. He offered her his arm, and upon reaching the church door, she thanked him, and inquired: "Do you happen to know who is preaching this morning?"

"The rector, madam," he replied.

"Oh," she said, "then I might beg you to grant me yet another favor?"

"Certainly," replied the rector once more, "what else can I do for you?"

"Would you," said the old lady, "be so kind as to assist me down the steps again?"

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

According to the canons of art, the perfectly proportioned face measures the same from the hair-line in the center of the forehead to the tip of the nose from the top of the nose to its ottom and from the bottom of the nose to the bottom of the chin.

These elements should be equal and if they are not you should endeavor to camouflage the defect.

If your forehead is too high, the use of bangs or a low coiffure covering a portion of it will eliminate the "bald" effect. This same hair arrangement will also camouflage the brow that is too low. Having the part-line of the bangs back of the hair-line will give the appearance that the forehead begins at the part-line.

A short chin may be given length by the use of V-shaped necklines; whereas round or oval necklines will make the chin seem shorter. A collar arranged low on the back of the neck will also tend to lengthen the chin.

No Short-Cuts For Decisions On New Laws

Supreme Court Refuses To Permit Speeding Up Measures

UNCERTAINTY ON MANY LAWS EXISTS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Refusal of the supreme court to permit short-cuts routes to decisions on constitutionality of two acts of the Roosevelt administration today pre-saged a long period of uncertainty on many laws.

In denying petitions designed to obtain early rulings on validity of the amended AAA and Guffey coal laws. The high court yesterday may have laid down a rule which will affect other cases.

Department of justice officials vigorously opposed an effort to obtain a temporary restraining order prohibiting enforcement of the Guffey coal law. It also opposed the petition of Washburn-Crosby company to bring a case involving validity of the amended AAA to the high court without waiting for a ruling of the circuit court of appeals.

Government attorneys planned to oppose a third petition pending in the high court, in which five rice millers are attempting to bring validity of processing taxes under the AAA to the high court.

As a result attacks on constitutionality of many laws of the Roosevelt administration—including the utilities holding company law—may have to be decided in federal circuit courts of appeals before reaching the high court.

Consider AAA December 9
The high court will consider validity of the original AAA on December 9, but some high officials say that if the original act is held invalid the administration will continue the AAA under the amended law until it is acted upon by the high court.

The first big decision day of the present term saw the supreme court divided in 10 of 17 cases.

Four cases were decided by votes of 5 to 4—a new record for one sitting of the court.

Queer divisions broke the usual "conservative" and "liberal" groups in the court in the decisions, all but one of which involved questions of federal taxation.

In one instance Justice Roberts joined with the "liberal" justices—Chief Justice Hughes, Justices Brandeis, Cardozo and Stone—to make the majority of the court. In another, Justice Vandervanter joined with the four to make the majority, while in two other cases Justice Roberts joined the "Conservatives" to establish the majority of five.

The court, in a suit brought by the receiver of the Duquesne Gas corporation of Pennsylvania, laid down the rule that a receiver can sue a promoter for fraud, even though the stockholders of the corporation assented to the plan.

It divided in rulings on the government's right to tax trusts established for the benefit of relatives. In one case it held that the government could levy "death duties" against a trust fund if the person establishing it reserved the right to change it during his life.

But the court held that where an individual establishes a trust fund and control passes irrevocably to himself as trustee, it is not subject to "death duties."

Crowd Damages Beauty Efforts At City Square

Forester Owen P. Fox Sees Hard Work Of Weeks Ruined By Crowd
Monday

City forester, Owen P. Fox, is much aroused because of the despoiling of the public square during the ceremonies at that place yesterday.

He has spent many hours during the past weeks working in an effort to beautify the square grass plots. Yesterday, the crowd that gathered trampled down some newly planted trees, and just about undid everything that he has attempted, he said.

It was probably done by unthinking persons, who did not realize the situation, but it is a discouraging thing to the city official to do his best to give New Castle a really attractive public square, and then have much of his work ruined in a few minutes by a crowd that gathers, and tramps over the plot.

Dr. Work Again Will Speak Here

Public Will Hear His Ethiopia Story At Cathedral Next
Monday

New Castle today was assured a "return engagement" by Dr. P. Ernest Work, the scholarly Muskingum college professor who framed Ethiopia's constitution for Emperor Haile Selassie several years ago and who recently appeared before a large audience of the Rotary club at The Castleton to tell in hurried fashion a part of his interesting knowledge of Ethiopian conditions.

Dr. Work will appear, he promised today, before the public at The Cathedral on the night of Monday, November 18. He will deliver a more extensive description of Ethiopian affairs at that time.

Audiences all over the east and the mid-west have received his lectures enthusiastically and the radio has carried to other hundreds his fascinating, gripping accounts of the tiny African kingdom which at the moment is waging war against the military might of Italy. His descriptions are up-to-the-minute accounts of events there. He speaks with authority for he spent several years there organizing an educational system for the king.

Dr. Work is a professor of history at Muskingum and is the man responsible for having three present Ethiopian princes schooled in America. They too, were responsible for having him called to Africa to write the constitution and perform other national services.

Rev. Hammond Still Month From Lonely Mission Destination

Another month of travel through the lonely, desolate South American interior lies before the Rev. William Hammond, young New Castle district minister who is enroute to a new mission post at Xingu, Brazil, Hammond wrote his mother, Mrs. J. J. Hammond, Superior street, today.

The letter, dated October 16, was postmarked Sao Paulo, Brazil. Sao Paulo is a short distance inland from the port city of Santos, where Rev. Hammond landed.

After remaining at Sao Paulo until sometime in December, the youth, known to many here, will board a train for 10 days, then transfer to a steamboat for an eight-day trip and finally climb on a pack animal for the remainder of the trip to the jungle outpost of Xingu.

Rev. Hammond, former pastor of the Unity Baptist church at Harlansburg, is a Moody Bible Institute graduate.

In the recent detailed report of the New Castle branch, Needlework Guild of America, submitted to The News, the name of Miss Mildred Gresham was omitted as a director under Section 20, Mrs. W. Wignall, president.

With the aid of two other directors, Misses Sue Platt and Mable Kocher, together with Miss Gresham and Mrs. Wignall, this section turned in a splendid total of 151 garments for the annual ingathering.

Sanctions Program Against Italy Is Being Completed

Last League Member Replies To Question Of Imposing Sanctions

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Nov. 12.—The League of Nations sanctions program against Italy was rounded out today when the Dominican Republic telegraphed to league officials her acceptance of all penalties against Premier Mussolini's government.

The Dominican government was the last league member to reply to the league on the question of sanctions. Her acceptance brought to 53 the total number of nations agreeing to sanctions against Italy.

This development will bring a united front of most league members into economic and financial conflict with Italy next Monday, when the economic and financial sanctions voted by the league are formally applied. The league arms embargo is already in effect.

With tension still high in the Mediterranean, particularly between Italy and Britain, prime mover of the Geneva campaign to halt Mussolini's African adventure, the formal application of sanctions will initiate a new phase in the current European crisis.

Premier Mussolini is expected to launch direct reprisals against the nations which apply sanctions in an effort to shatter his dream of an African empire.

With Austria and Hungary the only league members directly opposed to sanctions, Il Duce is expected to turn to Germany, via the overland route through Austria, to obtain essential raw materials he needs to continue his conquest of Ethiopia.

Germany has made it clear she will not participate in League of Nations sanctions against Italy, although she has declared an arms embargo to preserve her neutrality in the African war.

Irish Champion Has Taken Bride

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 12.—Danno O'Mahony, Irish heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, was married to Miss Julia E. Burke on Sunday, October 27 last, in St. Peter's Catholic church by the Rev. Francis V. Murphy. It was revealed today at city hall where the marriage return was filed.

Although the marriage was reported to have taken place on that date, all parties concerned refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The former Irish Free State army private, who came from Ballydeob, Ireland, gave his age as 23 and his name as Daniel Michael O'Mahony.

The bride gave her age as 27 and her occupation as nurse at Cambridge City hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of this city.

ATTEMPT MADE TO GAS WATCHMAN AT BIG TURKEY FARM

(International News Service)

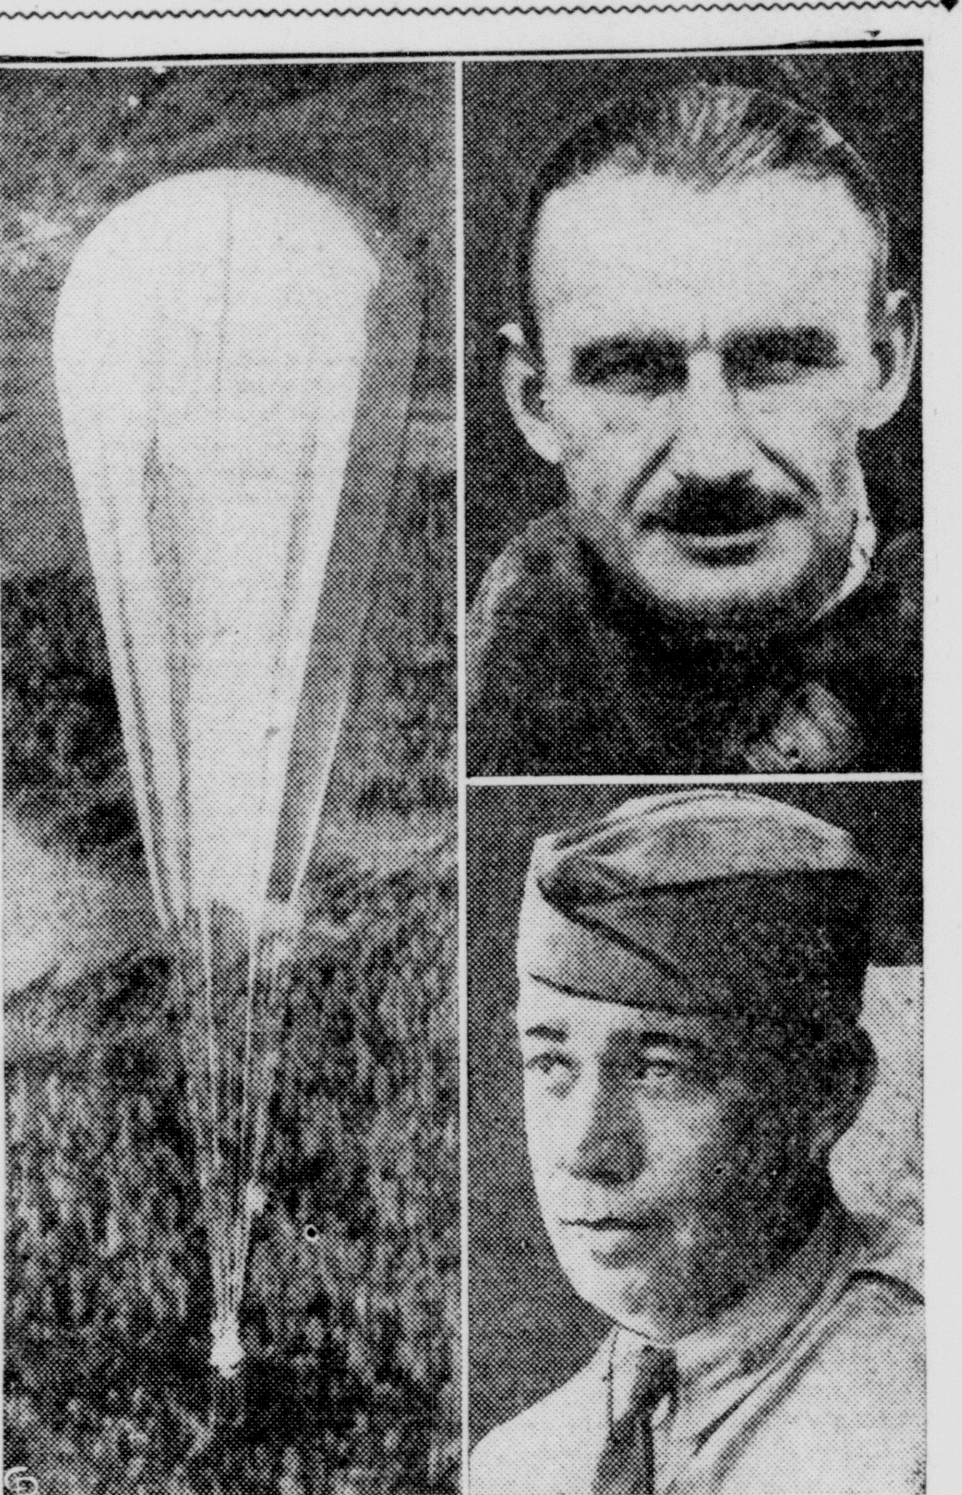

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Nov. 12.—With Thanksgiving day as close as it is, police today speculated on the probabilities that the reported attempts to gas two turkey farm watchmen were part of the plans to stage wholesale robberies.

One of the intended victims said he saw men flee across the fields as he emerged from the building half-choked with gas fumes. The other watchman found no one about the farm.

School Directors Take Office Soon

Three Newly Elected Directors To Be Sworn In December 2

BOARD OFFICERS ALSO TO BE NAMED

While most of the recently elected officials will take office on the first Monday of January, 1936, three of them will take office on the first Monday of December. The three are Dr. W. D. Cleland, Dr. W. Fulton Jackson and Clyde M. Whittaker elected to the New Castle school board.

The school code provides for a special meeting on the first Monday of December, for the purpose of organizing. Any members who have been newly elected are inducted into office by the secretary and the board then goes into its organization.

A president will be elected, a vice president and a solicitor. The secretary, who is also the business manager, is elected for a four-year term and the treasurer of the school system is elected in July.

For Dr. Cleland his induction on the night of December 2 will be his second offense. For Dr. Jackson and Mr. Whittaker it will be their first experience in holding public office.

The officers of the board at the present time are Daniel B. Woolcock, president; J. Herbert McIlvenny, vice president; John B. Bechtel, secretary and business manager; Attorney William J. Moffatt, solicitor. The city treasurer, L. W. McClung, is the treasurer of the board.

Sarcastic critics point out a glaring fault in the pink tax publicity slip. There is no space to enter the combination of one's office safe.

Excitement Is Fatal To Vet In Pittsburgh

Frank Luzell Dies Of Heart Attack As He Tries On Uniform

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—On Frank Luzell's uniform as he lay in a casket today were pinned the Purple Heart and the Victory medal.

But, there was no Croix De Guerre, the French decoration which he had earned for bravery in the Meuse Argonne offensive.

Luzell was awarded the French decoration long ago, but, he was on relief and he needed 60 cents for postage to get it. He didn't have the 60 cents so he went without the medal.

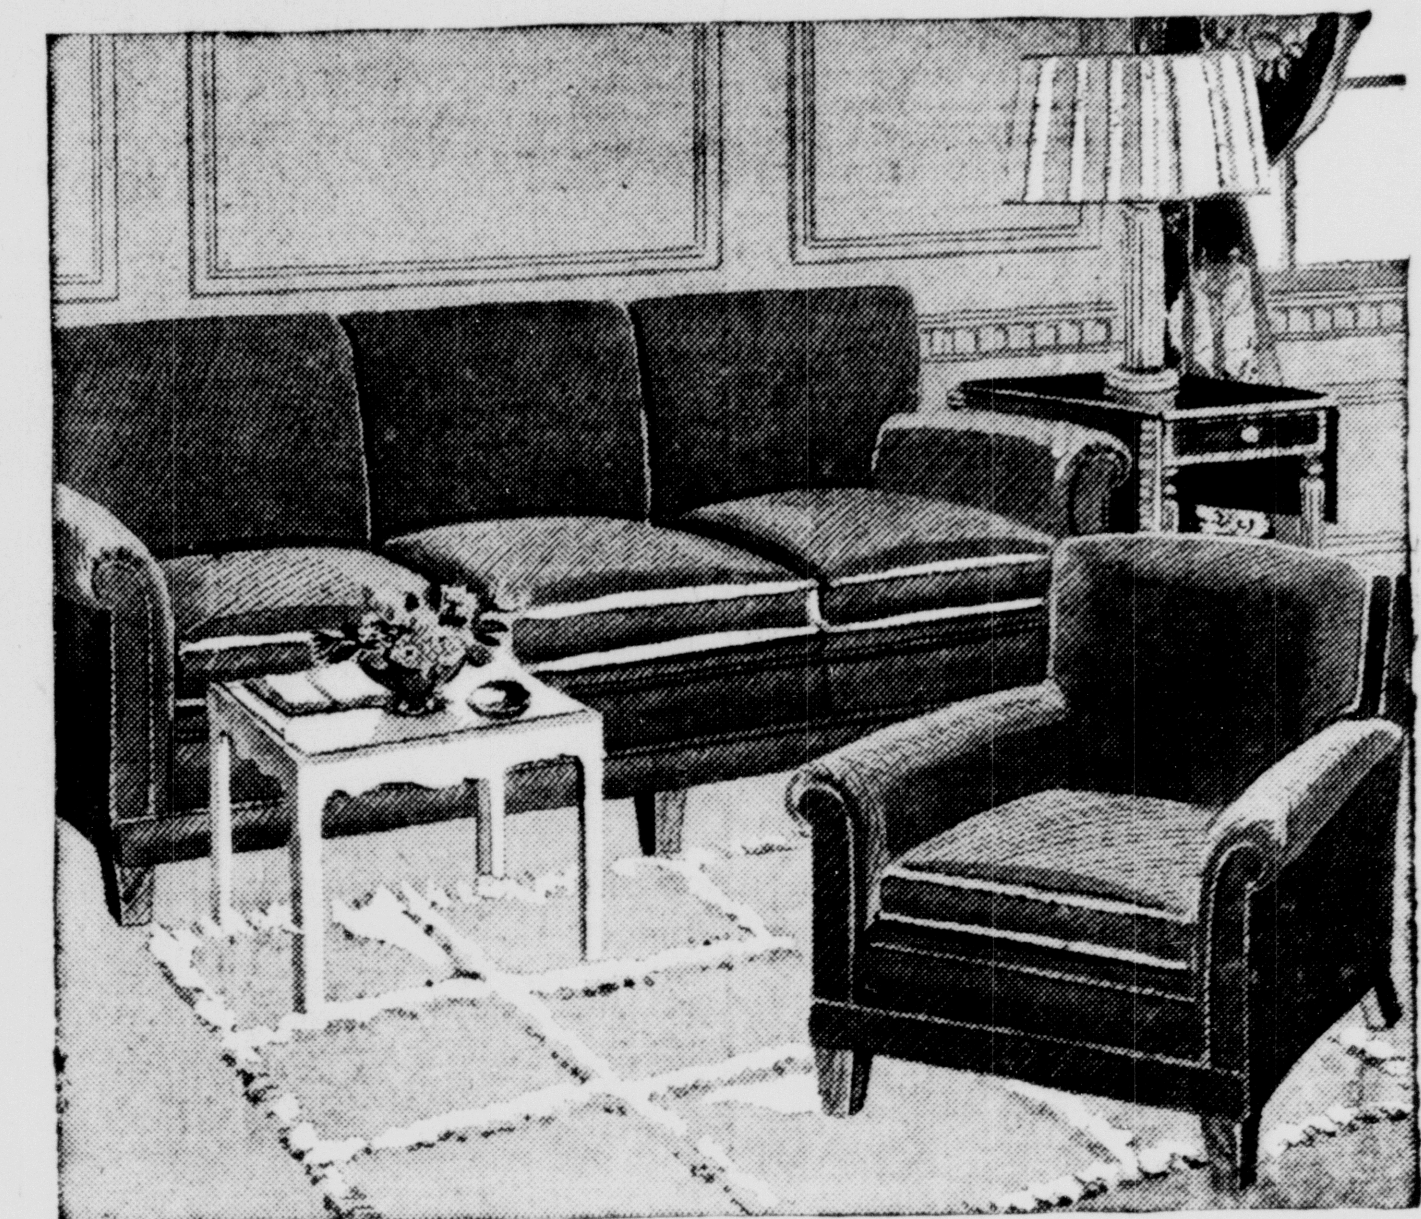

His heart leaping with excitement, Luzell collapsed Saturday as he was trying on the uniform he had cleaned himself for the Armistice Day parade. The heart and lungs which had been weakened by gas inhaled on the battlefields of France were no match for Luzell's excitement on Saturday.

Senators Will Continue Probe

Gather At Harrisburg—Senator Batchelor Is Head Of Committee

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12.—Republican members of the state senate converged here informally today for a talkfest and the annual luncheon given by Senator George Woodward, Philadelphia, from which may come the plans for the future of the Batchelor "ripper" inquiry committee.

The committee itself was scheduled to hold an informal executive session during the day to discuss tips and reports which have been given its members since the first hearings in Pittsburgh. Reports had it that Secretary of the Commonwealth David L. Lawrence and Secretary of Revenue Harry E. Kalodner would be called as witnesses at the next hearing but members would not discuss this phase of their work.

"We're going to try to sift the wheat from the chaff from the many reports, tips and rumors we have received and try to determine which way the investigation should go," Senator Alonzo Batchelor, Beaver, chairman of the committee, said.

Other senators here for the Woodward luncheon were expected to "sit in" with the committee members before and after the executive session.

Both Lawrence and Kalodner have been named by Republican senators as having offered patronage in return for votes for the bill which would have ripped Mayor William N. McNair, Pittsburgh, from office. The bill died in the senate.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Remedy at Home
No Cooking! No Work! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive results. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and it's a much better remedy. It never spoils and tastes fine. Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in distressing coughs. Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its soothing effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Terms Mission 'Arm Of Church'

Rev. W. S. Colegrove Opens Rescue Mission's Financial Campaign

SERVICE TONIGHT; PUBLIC TO ATTEND

REV. W. S. COLEGROVE

Alternating between uncontrolled laughter and sympathetic tears, the congregation which gathered in the Highland U. P. church last night heard the Rev. Willet S. Colegrove, of Parkersburg, W. Va., known familiarly by his friends and associates as "Bill," tell his first Rescue Mission story in New Castle. After a half-hour concert by the Welsh Ladies chorus under the direction of Miss Gladys Thomas, Mr. Colegrove was introduced by Dr. C. H. Heaton of the First Baptist church, who has known the guest speaker for more than 30 years. On the platform was the superintendent of the local mission, B. J. Watkins, who, as a professional baseball player, one night, dressed richly and immaculately, knelt in the Pacific Garden mission in Chicago as a humble sinner with a group of outcasts and then went out to evangelize the nation. He was in the story of his former associate, Mel Trotter of Grand Rapids. He described the Rescue Mission as an "arm of the church." He reviewed some of the statistics of the work of the local mission.

Another program will be presented tonight at the Second U. P. church on County Line street. The preliminary program, which will begin at 7:30, will be featured by a group of vocal solos by Richard Johns and some dramatic readings by Betty Clover, the teacher of dramatics of the George Washington Junior-Senior high school. Mr. Colegrove will begin his address at 8 o'clock.

Pleasantville Auto Crash Is Fatal To Two

(International News Service) TITUSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 12.—Authorities today launched an investigation into an automobile crash on a highway intersection in Pleasantville that took the lives of two young people and painfully injured a third.

David M. Wright, Jr., 18, of Temperance House, near Pleasantville, was instantly killed when the coupe in which he was riding left the road and crashed into a pole. Miss Katherine Dunham, 25, of Pleasantville, another rider in the machine said to have been driven by her brother, Cecil Dunham, 22, died a half hour after being extricated from the wreckage.

Dunham was driving to Titusville, police reported, at the time of the accident.

Denunciation For Teacher

Refusal To Salute American Flag Brings Armistice Day Declarations

SCHOOL HEAD SAYS SECT COMMUNISTIC

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—Echoes of Armistice Day orations today reverberated here with ringing denunciations heaped on pretty Grace Estep, Canonsburg teacher, her brother, Murray and five of her pupils, who were dismissed by the Canonsburg school board for refusal to salute the American flag.

Speaking of "Americanism," B. F. Skillen, superintendent of Independence township schools, branded "Jehovah's witnesses," the sect to which Miss Estep and her pupils belonged, not a religious element but a communistic organization. The sect does not tolerate tribute to "man-made" symbols.

Those who participate in such controversies, he added, are publicity seekers who take their orders from Moscow.

Supplementing Skillen's remarks, Dr. H. H. McBurney, commander of sub-district No. 3 of the 25th district of the American Legion, including Washington and Greene counties, said:

"There comes a challenge from the graves of our revered dead in France to keep our country free from violence, mob fanaticism, colored shirts and blind slogans that would destroy our foundation stones of liberty, justice, freedom and equality."

CAR DAMAGED IN WASHINGTON STREET

N. R. A. Substitute Plans Are Balked

Edsel Ford Declines To Share In Conference On N. R. A. Revival

STEEL INDUSTRY IS ALSO SILENT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The administration's dream of evolving a substitute for the impotent NRA through a series of conferences between industry and labor was marred today when the Ford motor interests flatly refused to participate.

Declining the invitation of industry co-ordinator George L. Berry to join in the all-embracing business conference here December 9, Edsel Ford predicted that little would be accomplished at the meeting.

"We have not participated in such conferences in the past and our observation of their effect upon recovery of the nation's economic health has not convinced us that any beneficial end will be served by them now," Ford said.

The Ford Motor Company is one of 5,000 firms and individuals which Berry invited to the forthcoming meeting. Since the Ford interests opposed the original NRA, the administration particularly sought this company's blessing on the new scheme for industrial peace.

In his request for Ford's participation, Berry termed the December sessions as an "unprecedented opportunity to help industry's position in the United States," adding that "your wealth of experience and position of leadership makes your counsel extremely desirable."

The Ford refusal contained a tart rebuke to administration policies.

"Hitherto unquestioning acquiescence and not counsel, has been asked," Ford asserted. "Our experience and counsel, to which your letter refers, are always at the service of the government."

In addition to disclosing Ford's refusal to attend the conferences, the NRA admitted that no word had been received from the spokesmen for the steel industry. Berry will confer with representatives of the textile industry this week in an effort to obtain their co-operation.

Chinese Fear New Japanese Blow Will Fall

(International News Service)

PEIPING, Nov. 12.—Chinese fears that a severe Japanese blow was about to fall in North China were given substance today with the arrival here from Tientsin of General Kenji Doihara, famed for his leading role in the conquest of Manchuria.

Further demands for withdrawal of Chinese troops and elimination of anti-Japanese activities, following the killing of a Japanese blue-jacket in Shanghai, are reported to have been made.

Acting on a report that the Japanese intend to arrest all Chinese known to have anti-Japanese views, even if they have not actively campaigned against Japan, many leading Peiping residents have left town this week.

"Doc" Spears On Way Out, Report At Wisconsin U.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—In the ordinary run of collegiate events, a football victory would be sufficient to insure a coach his job, but no such trivial accomplishment is going to save Clarence "Doc" Spears at the University of Wisconsin.

Thus today, International News Service is reliably informed, the 8 to 0 triumph of the Badgers over Purdue last Saturday notwithstanding, the man who was fat, but is now thin, it still on his way out with the exit scheduled for sometime in December.

At that time, having played Northwestern and Minnesota on successive Saturdays, the Badgers will have lost two more games and the time will be ripe for the unfrocking of the doctor. Furthermore, as the story goes, the successor will be Tom Lieb, former Notre Dame football star and later line coach at Wisconsin. Lieb, it is known, has won the inside track on the job.

HURRICANE HITS TURKISH STEAMER; NINETY-ONE DROWN

(International News Service)

ISTANBUL, Nov. 12.—Ninety-one were believed drowned, and 100 were rescued when the Turkish steamer Inebolu, hit by a hurricane, sank at the entrance to Smyrna Harbor before dawn today.

The Inebolu plunged rapidly to the bottom soon after water started pouring into her holds.

The British steamer Polo rescued 100 of her passengers and crew in the darkness, and landed them at Smyrna.

BETSY ROSS PICTURE LOANED TO MUSEUM

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12.—An oil painting, "Birth of Our Nation's Flag," which was awarded $1,000 as the best picture in the Pennsylvania Fair in 1893, has been loaned to the state museum and placed in a newly assembled art exhibit.

The painting depicts Betsy Ross displaying the first American flag to General George Washington. Col. George Ross and Robert Morris with the scene laid in the Betsy Ross home in Philadelphia.

It was painted by Charles Weisgerber, who lived in the Ross house for many years and completed the picture in 1893 after years of research to obtain accuracy in every detail.

PROFESSOR SETTLES ONE BIG QUESTION

(International News Service)

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Nov. 12.—Fascism in Italy and Naziism in Germany will collapse with the deaths of Mussolini and Hitler.

This was predicted at a lecture here by Dr. Maurice Mandelbaum, professor of philosophy at Swarthmore college. Both dictators are using their power to cloak their personal ambitions, he asserted.

Appeal Filed By Hauptmann For New Trial

Petition For Review Of Conviction Filed In Supreme Court

FATE HANGS ON DECISION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Declaring that he was denied the fair trial guaranteed by the constitution, Bruno Richard Hauptmann today appealed to the nation's highest legal tribunal.

The petition for a writ of review of his conviction for the kidnapping-murder of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's infant son, drawn by his lawyers, was formally docketed in the supreme court.

A vigorous defense of his trial at Flemington was expected to be given by the state of New Jersey, which has 20 days to answer Hauptmann's petition after service.

Ruling By Christmas.
The high court will act on the petition soon after New Jersey's answer is filed. A ruling is expected by Christmas.

Should the high court find merit in Hauptmann's contentions, oral argument will be ordered. But if the petition is denied, Hauptmann faces death.

Hauptmann's lawyers declared that "mob spirit" controlled the trial and charged that presence of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in the courtroom was prejudicial to him.

The petition, filed by Egbert Rosecrans, C. Lloyd Fisher and Frederick A. Pope, counsel, declared Hauptmann was denied due process of law and the equal protection of the laws guaranteed under the 14th amendment of the constitution of the United States.

Errors Cited.
Errors cited were:
1. Because of "the hysterical mob spirit with which the jury was surrounded during the entire conduct of the trial".
2. Because of "the picture of a circus maximum which was daily presented to the jury during all of the conduct of the trial".

3. Because of the daily presence of Col. Lindbergh "which unduly influenced the jury to view him as the real prosecutor and constantly presented to the jury the picture of a bereaved father for whose sorrow the world demanded a sacrifice".
4. Because of inflammatory summation of Attorney General Wilentz and because Judge Trenchard's charge to the jury "portrayed manifest approval of the state's theories" and was argumentative.

Theories Conflict.
One of the principal points stressed by Hauptmann's counsel was the alleged conflicting theories adopted by the state.

The petition charged that the prosecutor based his plea on the theory that the infant son of Col. Lindbergh was killed by a fall when he was being carried down a ladder from the upstairs bedroom.
But Attorney General Wilentz, it was contended, said in his summation that the child was crushed into insensibility in his crib and struck with a chisel.

The petition was particularly bitter toward failure of Judge Trenchard to keep the jury separated from the general public. It was alleged that this made the jury subject to "mob spirit".

Excerpts from Attorney General Wilentz's summation were set out in the brief accompanying the petition.

PROTEST GROWS ON P. W. A. USE OF FOREIGN STEEL

titude toward Nazi regime in Germany in approving purchase of German steel piling for tri-borough bridge out of funds intended to create work for American unemployed.

In making public the contents of the telegram, officials of the league said Germany had been able to win the contract only by virtue of large subsidies given to the steel industry by the Hitler government.

Joseph P. Ryan, chairman of the Central Trades and Labor Council and president of the International Longshoremen's association, declared:

"I can see that relief will have to be continued indefinitely if we are going to patronize the foreign market."

Many Protests Heard.
Others who raised their voice in protest included David Dubinsky, head of the international ladies' garment workers' union and vice-president of the A. F. of L.; Acting Mayor Bernard S. Deutch, Borough Presidents Lyons of the Bronx, Levy of Manhattan and Harvey of Queens; Representative James M. Fitzpatrick of the Bronx, Representative Andrew L. Somers of Brooklyn and Eugene Larkin, president of the 77th Division association.

It was understood here that William Green, president of the A. F. of L., would issue a statement regarding the situation in Washington today.

Protests Increase.
Pittsburgh, Nov. 12.—Protests from steel and labor leaders grew in volume in the Pittsburgh district today against action of the Public Works Administration in awarding contracts for German-made steel to be used in the new $65,000,000 tri-borough bridge and other projects.

Officials of large steel companies declined to comment directly, allowing their case to rest in the hands of the Iron and Steel Institute, but labor leaders were more emphatic.

Typical was the comment of Louis Leonard, secretary of the board of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

Starvation Wages.
"With thousands of steel workers idle or working one, two or three days a week, it is not in keeping with American principles to buy steel from a foreign market," he said.

"Nazi Germany has a low standard of living and pays almost starvation wages in comparison to our standard of living and wage scale. There is no reason for us to lower our standards to meet foreign competition. It is my contention that we should keep our standards where they are, if not increase them, and give American labor a break, even if the steel contractors do cost more money. It's worth it."

Says PWA Not Responsible.
Washington, Nov. 12.—Adjustment of the controversy over the purchase of German-made steel for the Queens approach to the tri-borough bridge in New York City is "entirely up to the tri-borough bridge authority and contractor," PWA officials asserted here today.

"PWA is not forcing anyone to buy German steel, nor in this case does the PWA differential of 15 per cent in favor of American prices apply," said a spokesman for Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

"In the tri-borough bridge case, the sponsor, the tri-borough bridge authority, is not purchasing the materials, but let a contract for the work on the Queens approach, the contractor to purchase the material."

"The contractor can purchase his materials wherever he wants. PWA has nothing to say about that in this case, or in any case where the sponsor lets the contract to the lowest bidder."

Even the specification giving a 15 per cent lee-way in favor of American material producers does not apply in such as the tri-borough bridge case, PWA officials declared.

No protest against award of the contract, nor against the reported purchase of German steel, had been received at Ickes' office early today, it was said.

In granting a 15 per cent lee-way in favor of American producers, PWA officials said, Ickes followed regulations established by the treasury for government material purchases.

DRUMSTICKS FOR THANKSGIVING?

"No drumsticks here," says Marilyn Pulley as she shows you the kind of turkeys her father raises on his ranch at American Fork, Utah. But Marilyn says that merely because the two gobblers are her "pals." Her father has plenty of turkeys to spare for the Thanksgiving feast, some 15,000 of them.

WILL PRINCE OF WALES MARRY?

Duke and Duchess of Gloucester

Duke and Duchess of York

Is the Prince of Wales to be a queenless king? Is the Prince of Wales to take the throne of England with no heirs? The world is trying to find an answer to these questions, doubly so since the recent wedding of the second youngest son of the King and Queen of England leaves only the Prince of Wales, the 41-year-old heir-apparent to the throne, unmarried in the British royal family. Prince Albert, the Duke of York, married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the 14th Earl of Strathmore, in 1923. Prince George, the Duke of Kent, took as his bride the Princess Marina of Greece in 1934, and Prince Henry, the Duke of Gloucester, was married recently to Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott.

Lions' World War Experiences Told

Club's Ex-Servicemen Heard
As Armistice Is Observed Today

The soldier and the sailor of World war days had their inning at the Lions club's annual Armistice Day exercises at noon today.

Thirteen ex-servicemen of the club who served Uncle Sam in the army or the navy told their fellow Lions of their "experiences" during the war. The Rev. D. L. Ferguson, himself a former navy man, presided over the luncheon as chairman.

Those who recounted "what I remember well" were James Vogan, Dr. B. M. Rogers, Jack Gerson, Dr. R. G. Campbell, Dr. J. L. Reed, J. A. McNeill, Walter Dietterle, R. L. Boyd, Roy P. Conway, George Smith, A. E. Miller, Thomas I. Elliott, and Rev. Ferguson.

The songs sung today were of an Armistice Day nature.

President William D. Coburn named Dr. T. J. Fletcher chairman of the club's inter-club activities committee.

Armistice Day Party At New Kensington Ends In Dual Tragedy

(International News Service)
NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—A gay Armistice Day party ended in death today for Ralph O. Bailey, 42, a factory foreman, and his companion, Mrs. Helen Boyd, 21, both of Arnold, according to police.
Their bodies were found in the front seat of Bailey's car behind the closed doors of a fume-filled garage. Friends said the couple had been celebrating the Armistice Day holiday at a night club last night.
Police were investigating whether the deaths were accidental or the result of a suicide pact. Mrs. Bailey collapsed when informed of her husband's death and Mrs. Boyd's husband was reported near hysteria from shock.

Why Not Find Out Where Money Goes?

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Although liquor consumption has increased by leaps and bounds, it has been a "disappointing source of revenue," according to Dr. Homer W. Topp, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

"For every dollar it paid into the U. S. Treasury," he declared, "the liquor traffic has taxed legitimate business $6." From May, 1934, to May, 1935, he asserted, beer consumption increased from 3,895,000 barrels to 4,683,000 barrels a month while consumption of hard liquors showed a proportionate increase.

THE STORE OF NATIONALLY
ADVERTISED MEN'S WEARING APPAREL

Both Parties Appear Dubious

Result Of Presidential Election In Doubt In View Of Recent Election

NATIONAL ISSUES TO BE UPPERMOST

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Democrats and Republicans alike are going into the 1936 national campaign (which may be considered as having started with the scattering local elections of November 5) in a state of decided uncertainty.

Each party organization had counted on the November 5 elections to furnish it with a fairly accurate idea of the current trend in public sentiment, but said elections didn't do it. Both sides claim to have had the advantage, but neither side, as a matter of fact, is at all sure whether it had or hadn't.

However, it was the rival managements' last chance to feel the American pulse. They have felt it and are going ahead on the basis of such enlightenment as is available to them respectively.

BOTH PARTIES DISAPPOINTED

The truth is that the Democrats were disappointed by the results of November 5—but so were the Republicans.

Of course the Democrats had hoped for an overwhelming endorsement of the New Deal, and they failed to get it. They say they got it but they know better. They make the most of Kentucky, where they did win a thumping victory, but the vote in New York, Pennsylvania and various other states requires a deal of explanation to make it look like a Democratic triumph.

Equally of course the Republicans had hoped for a smashing rebuke to Roosevelt-ism, and they failed to get that also, though they argue that they got it.

NATIONAL ISSUES UPPERMOST

The November 5 elections were peculiar in that national issues entered largely into nearly all of them despite the fact that all were purely local.

Nevertheless, most of the candidates ran as New Dealers or "antis". Thus the test might have had real significance if its reaction had been definitely "pro" or "con."

But what test can be deemed decisive which registers positively and negatively simultaneously?—as in New York state?—where the Democrats got a majority of the total number of ballots cast but the Republicans captured a majority of seats in the legislature.

This contradiction is explainable, indeed. The commonwealth is so distracted that the Republicans are certain to carry the legislature, in the absence of something approaching the proportion of a political convulsion of nature.

Still, such a situation confuses prophecy.

STIMULATE CONTRIBUTIONS

In one respect the outcome of the November 5 elections already shows signs of proving helpful to the G. O. P. organization.

What Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee especially requires is an adequate campaign fund for 1936. There are plenty of business men who are well disposed toward contributing to it if they believe there is the least chance of an anti-New Deal candidate's victory.

Recent local electoral results in New York (even qualified as they were), in Pennsylvania, in New Jersey and in Ohio (ignoring Kentucky) have heartened these folk somewhat.

Onto-New Deal gains were not all that they would have liked.

On the opposite hand, the New Deal's front did not prove to be quite as solid as they feared it would be.

G. O. P. ARGUMENTS FOR MONEY

Completely swamped on Nov. 5, the G. O. P. committee undoubtedly would have faced conditions of complete financial sterility as to next year.

As matters stand the committee is in a position to point to some slight hope, at least (and it will be expressed much more strongly than this), of carrying New York, maybe Ohio and probably New England and Pennsylvania.

G. O. P. strategists believe, too, that they can make a ringing appeal for money to aid them in breaking into the west, with such a presidential candidate as Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, who, as they see it, is not a type to alarm eastern business and yet should be popular in the corn belt.

With these arguments they fancy that big money can be induced to gamble on the 1936 outcome—and gamble quite liberally.

UNCERTAINTY FOR BOTH

The Republicans can't exactly be said, in short, to have won the Nov. 5 elections—not with a popular majority against them in New York and an overwhelming majority against them in Kentucky (the latter a terrible fly in their ointment).

Yet neither can they be said to have been wiped off the map, as in 1934's mid-term contest.

The actual difference is mainly psychological.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by picking them. Stah- have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of picking corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous, and immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

Together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such afflictions as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to have a corn and people are warned to stop it.

On Court House Hill

Candidates at the recent election are now preparing their election expense accounts. The last day for filing these accounts is December 5th.

Several persons came to the court house yesterday to get hunting licenses, only to find that all the offices were closed. The next vacation for employees will be on Thanksgiving day.

It is said that some hunters have been using tear gas in smoking rabbits out of their holes. This is strictly against the law and will result in arrests if the proper information is given to the game warden.

It is just fifteen years since women were given the right to vote. Many of them have since held office and many more would like to. Every year they appear to be taking more interest in politics and after while they may be able to run the country on a higher plane, although there are still some mere men who can't see that they have done much but double up the vote.

If and when the county acquires the Boyles property it will help to solve the parking problem at the court house. At present there is no place to park but on the streets, and they are so narrow in the vicinity of the court house that parking can only be allowed on one side. The Boyles lot would provide parking space for scores of machines.

Pennsylvania voters elected forty-eight judges at the recent election. Of this number twenty-five were Democrats and twenty three were Republicans. Twenty five sitting judges were candidates and of this number, eighteen were re-elected and seven were defeated. There were also some who were defeated at the primaries. Of the seven sitting judges who were defeated five were Republicans and two were Democrats.

OLD JOHN DON'T GET UP NIGHTS

He Made This 25c Test

Old John says, "I had to get up 5 or 6 times every night. This bladder irregularity was accompanied with scanty flow, burning and backache. I flushed out excess acids with little green tablets containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., called BUKETS. They work on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. After four days if not pleased any druggist will refund your 25c. I sleep good now." Ecker's Prescription Dets.

receiver of the First National Bank of Ellwood City, and Raymond W. Humphrey, guardian of the estate of John W. Offutt, Jr., Monday, the court has fixed November 18th as a time for hearing the application of Norman P. Mortensen, trustee, for final confirmation of the first partial account.

There is political gossip to the effect that Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor may be sponsored for the office of Auditor-General to succeed Frank R. Baldwin at the conclusion of his next year. For Taylor's post, Samuel R. Lewis, former Secretary of Highways, and regarded as a "strong man" of the Republican party, is a likely candidate. Former Speaker Grover Talbot of Delaware, is also mentioned.

It is rumored that some change may be made in the West Washington street bridge when the new county commissioners come into power. The bridge has been a traffic menace and an object of much criticism ever since it was remodeled with two narrow traffic lanes at the sides and a sterile garden site through the center. The contention was that the center would not support traffic, but it is believed that the bridge could be widened from one to two feet, which would be a great help.

Community To Aid In United Jewish Appeal

David Victor, Chairman Of Efforts, Announces Plans For Campaign

DR. ROSENFELD TO BE SPEAKER

Plans are under way for participation by New Castle in a nationwide campaign in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal for the relief and rehabilitation of the Jews of Germany and other European countries and the settlement of Jews in Palestine. It was announced by David Victor, who has accepted the chairmanship of the drive to raise here New Castle's share of the entire fund which is being sought nationally.

These funds will be used to carry forward the programs of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee and the American Palestine campaign who have joined their fund-raising efforts this year, as they did in 1934, to aid the Jews in Germany to avert the disastrous effects on them of the anti-Semitic attitude of that country's government, and also to deal with the economic problems of some 65,000 refugees from that country. Approximately 20,000 of these refugees are seeking to establish themselves in Palestine. The increasing impoverishment of large numbers of Jews in Poland and other East European countries is another problem for the solution of which the United Jewish Appeal is seeking funds.

In addition to Mr. Victor, the officers of the campaign are: Vice chairman, S. Edelstein; secretary, Mrs. T. Marlin; treasurer, L. Ruzewich; publicity chairman, Dr. Henry Sloan. The honorary chairmen are Marcus Feuchtwanger, Dr. E. Kaplan and Harry H. Frank.

The campaign will begin on November 17, at which time the guest speaker at the open meeting will be Dr. Kurt Rosenfeld, former minister of justice in Germany. This meeting will be held at The Castleton and will be open to the public. Dr. Kurt Rosenfeld was ousted from his position by the present regime. His talks on conditions as they exist in Germany are most vivid and educational.

National officers of the United Jewish Appeal are: Felix M. Warburg, chairman, and Paul Baerwald, Louis Lipsky, Morris Rothenberg, Jonah B. Wise and William Rosenwald, co-chairman.

The examination will be made under the jurisdiction of the commission. Records for June, July, August and September of last year will be gathered and compared to the records obtained for the same period this year and the information will be provided the commission.

BILL "LIKE DEATH" IS SURE TO COME

(International News Service) YORK, Pa., Nov. 12.—A bill, like death, may be a long time coming—but in the end it will arrive.

Witness the bill sent to Benjamin Lamotte, an insurance broker, who called a plumber in March, 1927, to make some repairs in his apartment. He forgot all about the incident, until the bill came.

It required eight long years for the bill to reach Lamotte. And its arrival sent him hurriedly checking old receipts, only to find that he had not paid it.

CALLED ON FEDERAL JURY

Mrs. Bella A. Taylor of Leasure avenue has received a summons to serve on the federal grand jury which will convene in Pittsburgh Monday, November 25.

1935 Red Cross Poster

THE compelling appeal of the most famous of Red Cross world war posters has been adapted by the distinguished artist Lawrence Wilbur in the 1935 Red Cross roll call poster.

"The Greatest Mother in the World" was the title given to the original creation of Alonzo Earl Foringer, eminent mural artist and illustrator of New York. The poster gave the keynote of the Second war fund drive of the Red Cross, and millions of copies were distributed throughout the nation.

In submitting a design for the 1935 poster, Wilbur, who has painted a number of posters for the Red Cross, placed the shadowy, heroic figure of mercy in the background, with the practical Red Cross nurse succoring a sick and wounded child in the foreground. "Still the Greatest Mother" is his title.

The posters are distributed through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and 9,000 branches in an appeal to every man and woman to join as a member during the annual roll call.

We Took Marriage Seriously, Say Local Pair, Observing 66th Wedding Anniversary

Most of us were celebrating Armistice Day on Monday but to a young couple on West State street the day had a far more significant meaning for them. It was the 66th wedding anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Arney W. Biddle and after being married for that many years a celebration would seem to be entirely in order.

Back on November 11, 1869 a youngster named Arney W. Biddle, just 21 and his sweetheart Miss Rosetta Kline, both of near Edenburg decided that life wouldn't be worth living unless they were married. So the pair of them slipped over to an aunt's place near Mt. Jackson and Squire Nesbitt tied the knot. That was sixty-six years ago and since then they have been happy together.

Lived On Farm

Life for them was never in the city. Mr. Biddle was a farmer, and a good one, and all these years they have lived in Lawrence county. For many years they lived in Slippery Rock township but about ten years ago moved to Union township where they now reside.

On Sunday November 10, they held a reception in their own home and on Monday a reunion dinner was held for them in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lindemann of 333 North street. Mrs. Lindemann is a daughter of the aged couple. At the dinner were children and grandchildren.

The years have left but little mark on Mr. and Mrs. Biddle. Either of them could pass for ten years younger than they are. Mrs. Biddle still does her own baking and in spite of a fall down the cellar stairs two months ago which cracked two ribs, she is recovered and active today. Mr. Biddle reads without the aid of glasses although his hearing has been bad for many years.

"Better Or Worse"

"To what do you attribute your long wedded life together, was asked Mrs. Biddle.

With a smile she said, "we took each other for better or for worse and decided we meant what we said. Too many couples today don't take marriage as seriously as they did years ago."

"Sometimes times have been hard," said Mrs. Biddle. "We have come through many depressions but the ones years ago we didn't notice. We were young, we worked hard and we had each other and our family. We haven't any cause to complain."

Mr. Biddle was interested in the Armistice Day parade on Monday but couldn't hear the bands. He has been almost totally deaf for many years and has never heard a jazz band. He takes a keen interest in current affairs despite his affliction and reads constantly.

The day was also a birthday celebration for Mrs. Ethel Anderson of Highland avenue extension and dinner honored her as well as her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddle are the parents of 11 children, eight of whom are living. They are: Mrs. Elizabeth Rhinehart, Mrs. Armada Lindemann and Mrs. Hanna Simon of New Castle; John S. Biddle, of East New Castle, R. D. 6; Mrs. Clara Moore, George Biddle and Mrs. Zora Stewart, of Akron, O., and Mrs. Carrie Bailey, of New Philadelphia, O.

Red Cross Roll Call Is Started

Various Groups Start Work Of Solicitation In City And County Monday

HOPE TO END DRIVE EARLY

With both the business and industrial groups and the women's house to house canvass groups on the job, the annual Roll Call of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, got under way Monday.

While the campaign lasts from Armistice Day until Thanksgiving, the solicitors plan to end their work as rapidly as possible, and the bulk of the canvassing is expected to be done this week.

The workers have met with a generous response from the citizens of the city and county in their early campaign, and feel confident that the goal of $4,500 which has been set will soon be attained.

Only a small portion of the amount subscribed will go to the national Red Cross to carry on its program of disaster relief work and the other activities of the organization. The bulk of the money raised will stay right here in Lawrence county, to be used in the administration of the local office and to carry on the work of the chapter in the county.

Both City Chairman Paul Dingley and County Chairman Alex McCready are confident their workers will exert every effort to make the campaign a success and that they will be supported in this by the public.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Philadelphia women and girls spent more than $3,000,000 last year for beauty treatments, and the beauty seekers ranged from two to 80 years old, shop owners here were told.

"The wide age range is on the increase," declared Joseph Colantonia, director of a beauty operators' organization. "Mothers now take their two and three-year-old daughters to have their hair curled."

Highway Patrol Checking Cars

Sergeant E. F. McGill of the state highway patrol stated this morning that highway patrolmen from this section started out at 8 a. m. and will make a thorough check for uninspected cars until 11 o'clock tonight.

Not only will the highway patrolmen scrutinize cars for stickers showing whether or not they have been inspected but will also make an examination of driver's and owner's cards and possibly the effectiveness of brakes.

Will Rogers Dad Was "Papa" To Him

Today

Will Rogers always called his father "papa"—and there was a fine affectionate meaning in the term.

Recalling one of his meetings with the humorist, James M. Cox, publisher and once presidential candidate, tells the following story:

"It was during the Democratic convention of 1932, that I saw Will Rogers for the last time. I had taken an apartment in Chicago and will come in to breakfast and remain about three hours. I was asking him about some pioneer provisions of the Oklahoma constitution. This suggested something which aroused his very animated interest. As nearly as I can remember his words, they were:

"Let me tell you something about that constitutional convention. My papa was a member of it. He went stringing along with the other fellows in most of the things they wanted, but when it came time for him to make his play, he laid out the boundaries of our country. He had been all over that country and knew the creeks, the lowlands, the hills and every square foot of good land. Well, he got a map and pencil and took in every acre of good soil which was in that whole country. He had to be stopped once because he had crossed the line into Missouri. Why, when he got through, our country looked like the antlers of a reindeer."

"One would have expected an old cowboy and ranchman to speak of his father as 'the old man.' This, however, was not the case with Will; it was 'papa' with him, and there was a fine, affectionate meaning in the term."

The Will Rogers campaign is well organized locally, with Fred L. Rentz, president of the News Company, as chairman, and the officers of the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, as well as the Junior Chamber of Commerce assisting him. Contributions are entirely voluntary and may be given by filling out the attached coupon and sending to Chairman Rentz or to any of the officers of the above organizations:

Former King To Return To Greece

Expected To Make Trip Back To Native Land This Week

ABDICATED THRONE TWELVE YEARS AGO

LONDON, Nov. 12.—King George II of Greece formally accepted his nation's invitation to return to his throne at a brief ceremony in the Greek legation, and announced he would go back "almost immediately to my beloved people."

It was learned he would go to Athens with the three-men delegation which brought the formal invitation, probably on Thursday, and possibly Wednesday.

More than 97 per cent, of the people of Greece voted to bring him home to the throne he abdicated 12 years ago in a nation-wide plebiscite last Sunday.

The King wore simple morning dress, in contrast to the bearded General Alexander Papagos, of his entourage, who was attired in a blue and gold uniform surmounted by a purple cloak.

In Athens, picked troops pledged their allegiance to the King in an oath-taking ceremony at the Athenian stadium in the presence of Cabinet members and diplomats.

(Canon salutes were fired from Mount Lycabettus and military planes circled overhead.)

Finds Marriage Hampers Studies

Two Views Expressed On Question Of Married Students

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Do studies and marriage mix?

"No," said Prof. Walter Beck, of the psychology department of the Boston University School of Religious and Social Work.

"Yes," retorted Miss Helen Magoun Dame, secretary to Dean Albert C. Knudson of the B. U. School of Theology, where most of the students are married.

"You cannot combine study and a happy married life, because studying is a prerequisite for a well-conducted marital career," said Professor Beck.

"No character is the same after the effects of four years of maturing in college. Therefore, how can you satisfactorily match two personalities with one or both not yet formed?"

"I don't believe it matters much scholastically whether the students are married or not," answered Miss Dame. "As long as they have enough money to prevent worrying over financial matters, studying doesn't seem to be affected."

New Lafayette Cars On Display

State Auto Sales Company On S. Mercer Street Showing New Cars

The Lafayette enters its third year as the permanent entry of the Nash Motors Company in the lowest-priced field. Those who see the new car at the State Auto Sales Co. 30 S. Mercer street, will find it entirely new in appearance and design with all-steel bodies of approved aerodynamic styling, increased horsepower, improved spring suspension, re-distribution of car weight, greater interior roominess and the adoption of hydraulic brakes as major changes of importance and interest to motorists.

Business is the first impression one gets at the sight of this 1936 Lafayette. The unbroken sweep of its streamlined body and hood, impart a feeling of size to this low-priced car and has little in common with its price tag.

ness, is another outstanding characteristic of the 1936 Lafayette. Well worth noting is the improved system of synchronized springing. First introduced nearly this year on the 1935 Nash built line, the new springs use no oil and possess a constant co-efficient of friction as well as a constant rate of oscillation. Redistribution of weight, another innovation of the 1936 Lafayette, is also a great contributing factor to the increased riding comfort of this new car. In moving the motor forward approximately six inches Nash engineers have also been able to place the passenger compartment more nearly in the center of the car. Both front and rear seat passengers now ride between the axles in the zone of the greatest comfort.

Pennsylvania Tenth In Number Of Year's Prisoners

Courts Of State Sent 1,939 Persons To Prisons During 1934

By ARTHUR C. WIMER Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Pennsylvania ranked tenth of the states in the number of prisoners committed to Federal and state prisons and reformatories last year, according to a study made public today by the census bureau.

Courts in the state committed 1,939 persons to such institutions during the year. Ranking second of the states in population but only tenth in prison and reformatory commitments, Pennsylvania appeared to send less than a representative number of prisoners to penal institutions during the year.

The most common offense in Pennsylvania was burglary, 634 commitments resulting from that crime. Other commitments were classified according to type of offense as follows: Homicide 118, robbery 329, aggravated assault 74, other assault 22, larceny except auto theft 305, auto theft 117, embezzlement and fraud 9, stolen property 24, forgery 36, rape 101, other sex offenses 90, other offenses 89.

Prison and reformatory commitments by Ohio courts in 1934 numbered 2,455, the state ranking ninth in such convictions. West Virginia also ranked far higher than its normal population rating, with 1,198 commitments.

Christine Butler Presents Report

Neighborhood House Report Is Heard By Americanization Board

At a meeting of the Board of Americanization in the home of Mrs. Charles Greer on North Jefferson street, Saturday night, Miss Christine Butler presented the Neighborhood House report for the month of October. It follows: "Calls made, 62; book exchanges, 91. Classes for the winter are beginning to open. The Christian Endeavor, led by Miss Mabel Lewis, has had a good attendance. A special speaker, Miss Beulah Heaton, gave an illustrated talk which was much enjoyed by the boys and girls. "Mrs. Jemima Foster has been conducting a home nursing class and the girls are quite interested in it. The music class is still continuing its good work under the direction of Miss Violet Shuler. The First Presbyterian church has given a piano to be used for the class. Work is being planned for the two sewing classes which will open soon. "We are hoping that the night school work can be started soon. Have received quilt patches from the Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian church and from Mrs. Luikhart. Also a fine lot of magazines from Miss Blanche Bright.

CHARGE RAID BY POLICE UNJUSTIFIED

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Members of the Society of Illustrators declared today they would re-produce their benefit show, which police raided Friday night, much to the chagrin of a high-hatted and elite audience.

Meanwhile officers of the society, which includes in its membership all the leading artists and illustrators, rallied to the support of the five girl members of the cast, who were arrested for helping stage an "indecent" show. The girls will be given a police court hearing Thursday.

Dean Cornwell, famous illustrator, intimated that "charges" might be brought against the police for staging the raid.

"This show was not completed, due to the stupidity of the police," Cornwell asserted. "I for one can't figure out how they could call it an indecent show. None of us can figure it out."

ITALY PROTESTS TO ALL NATIONS ON SANCTIONS

(International News Service)
ROME, Nov. 12.—The Italian government on Monday sent a formal note to protest against application of sanctions against Italy to all governments enforcing them. More than 50 nations at Geneva have signified their intention of applying sanctions against Italy in accordance with the league of nations decisions penalizing Italy for warring against Ethiopia.

"Expert" Testimony Is Often "Biased"

Center County Judge Thinks It Would Be Well To Change System

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 12.—Testimony of court-appointed experts on technical subjects arising from litigation to insure unprejudiced evidence is the suggestion of President Judge M. Ward Fleming of the Centre county common pleas court.

Discussing his proposal before the senior engineering class at Pennsylvania State college, Judge Fleming said:

"Under present procedure, technical experts are witnesses for the litigants and consequently are suspected by the jury of being partial to the side which employs them. The remedy seems to lie in bringing witnesses into court free from connection with either party."

Under his plan, Judge Fleming said the court would appoint an expert in addition to those employed by the litigants. The experts would be required to confer in advance of the trial to eliminate any needless misunderstandings, after which the court's expert would render his opinion in the form of a report at the trial.

Deer Killed In Freak Accident

(International News Service)
BANGOR, Pa., Nov. 12.—Out of season and without a hunting license, the Rev. Edwin W. Lentz, Bangor pastor, already has bagged a deer this year.

But his kill occurred in a freak accident after the young one-pronged buck wandered into main streets of this community. Struck by the clergyman's automobile as it turned a corner, the deer fled through neighbors' yards and fell dead at the feet of Mrs. Clark Ruch who was hanging clothes. Game wardens turned the carcass over to state institutions for food.

DEFECTIVE FLUE CAUSE OF ALARM

Firemen from four departments were called out Monday afternoon at 1:45 when it was thought the Bleakley block on the public square was ablaze. An investigation revealed that several apartments in the Bleakley block were full of smoke, and when the trouble was traced to its source it was found that the smoke came from a defective flue in the adjoining building, in apartments occupied by Mrs. Grace Gilbert, 11½ South Jefferson street.

Harmony Baptist Special Features In Revival Series

Tonight Will Be "Friends' Night"; Wednesday, "Sunday School Night"

Sunday was a record day at the Harmony Baptist church revival on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. The afternoon service was in the nature of a "Missionary Rally." Rev. Harold Davis brought a stirring message from the subject, "The Greatest Missionary the World Has Ever Seen." Special selections were sung both by local and outside talent. Both the Glad Tidings quartet of Beaver Falls and the Harlanburg Male chorus were present and rendered a number of Gospel selections. The climax of the meeting was the dedication of a large number present to definite service for the cause of Christ.

At the evening service the church was filled nearly to capacity. During the service a quartet from the First Baptist church of Ellwood City, consisting of Rev. and Mrs. Bernie Osterhouse and Rev. and Mrs. Walter Biberich sang in a beautiful manner, the selection, "Near to the Heart of God." There was a response to the altar call at the close of this service and also at the close of the service on Saturday evening.

There will be services each evening this week commencing at 7:30. Tonight is "Friends' Night." Special recognition will be made of those who bring their friends, a prize will be given the one who brings a friend from the greatest distance. Wednesday will be "Sunday School Night." Every class will strive to be present with a 100 per cent attendance of their members. Thursday is "Family Night." A Bible will be given to the largest family present. On Friday evening the Davis party will give another of their Biblical dramas. The subject of this drama will be announced later.

AROUND CITY HALL

James Thomas, appointed by city council as the chief of the paid fire department Monday, has had approximately 15 years' experience in fighting fires in this city. He was recommended as a member of the fire department by Councilman Bes Lusk during the administration of Mayor A. D. Newell and started to work on January 1, 1919. He was sent to the Central department which at that time was in East street and later was transferred to No. 5, or the Scioto street department. He rose from private to lieutenant and when Claire Stockman, assistant fire chief took the place vacated by the death of Fire Chief Charles Lynn, Thomas was named to Stockman's place, and again took quarters at Central. Stockman resigned in September, effective October 1, and Thomas was named temporary chief. He became chief of the department effective yesterday.

Earl F. Wimer, controller for the city is in Harrisburg today, where with other third class cities officials and also state officials he is helping to draft a uniform system of appropriations for the government of Third class cities.

Armistice Day was celebrated as a holiday by most city hall folk on Monday. Under the provisions of a state law council must meet each Monday morning. The employees of city hall, excepting City Clerk C. Ed. Brown, were given the day off.

Letter Asks Care For Lonely Graves Of Early Soldiers

Let's be good Americans and decorate the forgotten, lonely graves of the veterans of the Civil war, the War of 1812 and the Revolutionary war which may be found in the older Lawrence county cemeteries. Ralph Ferrucci, Wampum resident, wrote, in effect, in a letter to The News today.

Ferrucci wrote that on a recent hunting trip he found many burial spots unmarked and desolate. "These men," the writer continued, "have given their lives for our country just as have our veterans of later wars, and why shouldn't we show our sympathy for them? Why not decorate them?"

The graves of 14 ex-soldiers whom he termed "the forgotten men of America" were discovered by Mr. Ferrucci on a hunting trip. Every day, he said, hunters and others discover them.

The letter called upon all residents "to do your duty as a citizen" by marking them appropriately.

Gypsy Musician Is Buried At Braddock

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—Mournful gypsy chants, sons of a wandering people, filled the streets of Braddock as the strains of 40 stringed instruments, playing an unwritten funeral dirge, led Willie Garber, king of gypsy musicians, to his grave. Universally known among gypsies, Garber was taken to his last resting place in traditional style. Born in Vienna, Garber studied in Boston and New York, and spent long engagements playing in St. Louis, Washington, Youngstown, Uniontown and Erie. A personal friend of Fritz Kreisler, Garber composed many mournful elegies typical of his people.

Leadership Training School To Open In First M. E. Church

GOOD ENROLLMENT IS ANTICIPATED

The Leadership Training school for Sabbath school workers will start at 7:30 this evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church, and the indications are that there will be a good enrollment of those wishing to add to their Christian educational background.

The Old Testament course taught by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will deal both with the history and literature of the Old Testament. The New Testament course taught by Dr. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, will divide the books of the New Testament into their proper groups and will give the distinguishing characteristics of each group. Between the two lecture periods

Princeton Will Not Harbor Idea Of Coast Battle

Yale And Harvard Would Waive Rule, But Princeton Says "No"

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—It may be North Carolina, Texas, Christian Southern Methodist, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Holy Cross or Marquette. But it won't be Princeton.

The Tiger, hailed by eastern critics as the "greatest team in the country" evidently are going to take it out in advertising. To every apparent and practical purpose, they will not be at the Rose Bowl, even if invited. Semi-official sentiment at Cambridge and New Haven indicated today that Harvard and Yale would be willing to waive the big three code, if Princeton was in the mood to accept.

"It would be up to Princeton," was Harvard's sentiment.

"Ditto," echoed Yale.

Princeton Refuses

But Princeton says it is not open to argument on the subject. It has its studies to consider and, besides, post season football smacks of "over emphasis" and other sordid features. The Freshmen, it seems, being young and ingenious and not yet subject to the piping rock influence, are all for it. But the upper-classesmen are quite certain that, at best, it would be a bit "undignified," to say the slightest.

So, as I said yesterday, the Rose Bowl people would be well advised to forget the big three legend. There may be no ivy-clad tradition about Syracuse, Marquette, North Carolina, Holy Cross, Southern Methodist or Texas Christian. But they play real, foot-on-the-face football, and, if I'm wrong again, it's only because of my extreme youth and the fact that I'm so readily impressed.

Nothing, as a matter of fact, could be more impressive than the score that has just come in over the wire. It reads:

Geneva Defeats Waynesburg 27-0

District Go To Geneva Class B Honors In Tri-State College

(International News Service)
BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 12.—Following four periods of pigskin totting on the soggy Reeves stadium here, the Geneva College Covenanters today held an impressive victory over the Waynesburg Wolfpack by a 27-0 tally and seized the mythical Class B honors of the Tri-State district.

Besides securing themselves of minor school laurels, Coach Dyke Beede's lads rightly earned a corsage of gridiron orchids by scoring four touchdowns against an eleven which held the powerful Pitt Panthers to a pair.

Moore High In N. C. Rifle Shoot

R. Moore was high with a brilliant 189 out of a possible 200 score at the semi-weekly shoot at the Cathedral range last night by the New Castle Rifle club. Second to Moore was Leo Hill with 188. J. Moore was third with 183.

R. Moore had to wade through a field of 10 other rifle experts last night to take first place. The next shoot by the New Castle Rifle club will be held Friday night at the Cathedral range at 7:30 o'clock. All good sportsmen are invited to attend.

The results last night—R. Moore 189; Leo Hill 188; J. Moore 188; H. Allen 186; H. Workman 182; C. Black 180; C. Badger 175; H. Reynolds, 173 E. Bryan, 170, R. Forney 66, J. Allen 146.

Wabash Bears And Firemen To Play Next Week

Semi-Final Game In Elimination Tourney At E. & A. Field Sunday

The semi-final game in the New Castle independent football elimination tourney will be played next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the E. & A. field, it was announced today.

The drawing at the "Y" Monday afternoon resulted in the Wabash Bears of the seventh ward meeting the Sixth Ward Firemen.

Sixth Ward Firemen won their right to remain in the tourney by upsetting the hard-fighting and fine Croton Progressives. The score of this game after one other attempt was 6 to 0. The first time these two teams met it was 6-6.

The Wabash Bears defeated the New Castle All-Stars 18 to 6 at the Ryantown field last week, to remain in the running.

"Mickey" Gazell, manager of the Abrahams, has come forward with a challenge to the winner of the championship. Gazell contends the Abrahams, despite their defeat at the hands of Ryantown, is one of the strongest teams in the city.

Ryantown drew a bye in the tourney as there were only three teams left. Ryantown meets the winner on Sunday, November 24.

Mike Kulich, Joe Howley and A. Annerella will handle the game next Sunday afternoon.

Sport Brevities Along Broadway

Jimmy Johnston Likes To Boast Of Handling Seven Champions

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—This was boasting day along Broadway. . . . Not that that's unusual. . . . but some of the boasts were . . . to wit . . . Bill O'Brien's boasting that he's carrying the pro tennis war into U. S. L. T. territory like Mussolini invading Ethiopia. . . . but a lot faster.

Bill has signed Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold, midjet, Californian, for a pro tour starting here Jan. 11. She's the little lady who beat Kay Stammers, British ace, in the Wightman cup matches. . . . She's the first to quit the amateur gals since Suzanne Lenglen and Mary K. Brown turned pro in 1926. . . . Bill promises there will be others with her before the snow flies.

Doc Bier's boasting he's been running his training camp at Pompton Lakes for 15 years. . . . during which time more than 90 per cent. of the boys who trained there won their fights. . . . and not one ever had ten counted over his prostrate form.

Manages Champions
Jimmy Johnston's boasting about the seven world's champions he's managed, ten British champs and 20 ex-champs. . . . But Sam McQuade and Bill Roache, each with half a century of managing behind them, are not boasting of the fact neither ever had a champ to handle. . . . but they're still trying.

Staten Island's already boasting about the turnout for Saturday . . . when the whole population intends to honor the island's favorite son, William Shakespeare, Notre Dame half back. . . . Bill is sure to take more punishment from back slappers than he did from Ohio State and Northwestern.

The garden's boasting—via Jimmy Johnston—the first bantam title fight ever held there. . . . that between Salica and Escobar next Friday night. . . . The former is one of 14 children. . . . all of whom eat in their dad's restaurant. . . . Dad turned over the chef job yesterday to an aide while he went to the camp. . . . with tons of spaghetti, cheese, special sauce and wine. . . . Papa Salica boasts his son is a sure bet to keep the title. . . . But the betting fraternity makes Escobar a 6 to 5 favorite.

Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

Lawrence County Sportsmen's association will meet at 8 p. m. today at the Y. M. C. A. During the session motion pictures of wild game will be displayed, according to Andrew Dadds, president of the organization.

Gates Plan, Not Harman "On Spot"

Penn Student Body Riled Up Over Defeats Suffered By Football Team

HARMAN FORMER NEW CASTLE BOY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Penn's student body and alumni today laid the blame for the team's poor showing on the gridiron to the Gates plan rather than to Harvey Harman, the coach.

It was felt the team had shown plenty of fight and gameness against Navy but there is a growing feeling of resentment against the Gates plan. In the five years since that plan was started the Penn football teams have not had a good season and the alumni and student body are demanding a new football deal.

Power Turned Off
"We played better against Navy than we played all year but it doesn't seem in the cards for us to win," said Harman today. "Our power seemed to be turned off when we were in scoring position and Navy's was greatest when opportunity offered."

Harman denied there was any trouble brewing in the coaching ranks. He plans a few changes in the lineup for Penn State Saturday because of injuries.

Harvey Harman is well known to many in New Castle, having played on the New Castle high team back around 1914, 1915 or 1916 when the high school used the old Cascade park baseball field. Harman later went to Peabody high and then played against New Castle. He later went to Pitt, where he attained All-American honors as a lineman.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Southern Methodist university defeated the University of California at Los Angeles 21 to 0 yesterday. Led by Bobby Wilson, a twisting halfback, the Texans whipped passes at the Bruins, sketched enos and rode herd on Charlie Cheshire, spoken of as the Bruins candidate for All-American honors.

John G. Jackson, who played football and golf while attending Columbia U more than 30 years ago, was nominated at New York Monday for the presidency of the United States Golf association. He has been a former counsel for the association and a vice president since 1933. He was nominated to succeed Prescott S. Bush of Greenwich, Conn.

University of Pittsburgh defeated West Virginia U in the junior A. M. A. cross-country championship race at Pittsburgh yesterday. The Pitt Panthers captured the first three places in the team competition, with the varsity finishing out front with 21 points, the freshmen pulled up in the second with 61 and the junior varsity was third with 91.

Ted Yarosz, former middleweight champion, underwent an operation on his injured knee at Philadelphia yesterday. He sustained the injury during his first bout with Babe Risko, who later won the championship when they met at Pittsburgh.

Before the largest crowd ever to attend a football game in Mercer county, Sharon high won the Mercer county title by defeating Farrell 12 to 0, at Sharon yesterday. . . . Barney Shotton, 51, manager of the Rochester club of the International league, will pilot Columbus of the American association next year.

Watt Will Play His Final Game Against Geneva

WATT

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—One of the outstanding lineemen on the Westminster college football team this year was Richard Watt, senior, who plays his last game in a blue jersey Saturday against Geneva.

This is Watt's third year on the varsity; twice during the season he has captained the team as one of its most popular and most consistently good players. He is a member of Block W, men's athletic organization, and is also active in intramural sports. A major in business administration, he is a member of Theta Upsilon fraternity.

In 1931 he played for Struthers high school on Coach Russell Schill's undefeated team. Watt is the son of Mrs. H. G. Bailing, 1520 Market street.

Bridenbaugh Grants Team Vacation Monday, Back To Work Today

New Kensington high school will be met at the New Kensington field this coming Saturday by New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team. Today the New Castle team went back into training. Monday was a holiday granted by Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh.

The game Saturday will be the final Class AA venture for the Castles. The tie with Charleroi will probably put the locals out of the running for Class AA honors this year. However the point-system is to be used and it may work out different than expected.

No injuries cropped out in the Martins Ferry high battle. New Castle will be at full strength this week for the Kensingtons. Particularly pleasing Saturday was the work of Vargo at center in the spot left vacant by Adamo. Malley also performed well, but it was Vargo who stopped many of the Martins Ferry plays.

Georgia Governor Makes Address

Assails Exorbitant Taxation,
The AAA, And Roosevelt Administration

FORECASTS BONUS PAYMENT IN 1936

(International News Service)
BREWTON Ala., Nov. 12.—Invading Alabama for an Armistice Day address, Gov. Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, Monday vigorously assailed exorbitant taxation, the AAA, the Bankhead Cotton Control act, and the Roosevelt administration, and predicted the bonus will be paid at the first session of congress because "1936 is an election year."
After paying high tribute to the heroism of veterans of the World war Gov. Talmadge said:
"Some things have been too good for them. They were not the proper channel through which to distribute wealth, although it was owing to them."
"But remember this, the bonus will be the first of the session of congress in 1936."
"Why do I say this? Because 1936 is an election year. The all-important question now is from what source it will be paid."

Miss Mary Elizabeth Shellan, 302 fact that real thrills do come to hand of cards to find 13 spades or one of those one-in-a-million hands while playing with friends over the week-end.

The group was playing contract bridge in the home of Miss Betty Conover, Pine street, at the time.
Excited and amazed after her first glance at the hand, Miss Shelmade, of course, without any trouble. Miss Conover was Miss Shellan's partner. Shields, John-

Stock Market Is IrregularStrong Opening Today In Market, Later Turning Irregular

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The stock market turned irregular after a strong opening today. Heavy selling hit liquors and Schenley slumped more than 2 points. The announcement of the trade agreement with Canada, involving a big cut in liquor duties, was the factor on the curb Canadian liquor companies were strong as a result.

Motor shares also turned reactionary. Chrysler lost more than a point while General Motors started off in new high ground and then eased.

In rails, Great Northern and Atchafalaya rose a point each and New York Central was very active. Steels were supported by the new rise in the industry's operations to within a fraction of their 1935 high. Inland hit a new high and Bethlehem was in demand.

Radio shares strengthened in response to the disclosure of the corporation's deal to dispose of its holdings in electric and musical industries. The common started with 10,000 shares and forged ahead. Rubbers were under pressure and utilities mixed.

Cotton continued to advance while grains were weak. The bond market was mixed. Gold currencies weakened further.

Ellwood Allowed To File AppealOpinion Is Handed Down By Judge James A. Chambers
In Lapatka Case

The borough of Ellwood City was granted the right to an appeal in the case of John and Mary Lapatka in an opinion handed down by Judge James A. Chambers at Lawncourt county court this morning.

The case was one in which the plaintiffs had presented a petition for viewers to assess damages caused by a short cut road between Ewing Park and the fourth ward of Ellwood City.

The viewers completed their work and filed a report on July 30, 1935. Borough officials claimed that they had no notice that the report had been filed until August 29th, which was outside the limit within which an appeal could be taken. However on account of no notice being given the court allowed the filing of the appeal nunc pro tunc, which has the same effect as though it had been filed within the time prescribed by law. A hearing will now be held.

Y. W. C. A. Dinner On November 22

All Association Dinner To Be Staged At Cathedral
This Month

COMMITTEES FOR AFFAIR NAMED

The Y. W. C. A. all association dinner will be held in the Cathedral on Friday, November 22, at 6:30, was the decision of a meeting of the program committee representing all the clubs of the association last night.

This annual tureen dinner which last year brought together 700 women and girls from all the activity groups in the association is part of a world-wide celebration of fellowship with the associations in 51 other countries. This year the committee decided that the loving cup presented by Jack Gerskins should be given to the club which presented a tableau best portraying the contribution of some country to world betterment, such as art, medicine or religion. This plan, it was thought, will give each club an opportunity of carrying out the theme of world fellowship by adding to our understanding of the contribution of every nation to the world's good.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, the chairman of the committee, made the following appointments: Mrs. James Rhodes, for properties and general arrangements for the tableau; Miss Nellie Ostrowski, of the Energetic club, for publicity concerning rules and regulations such as song rehearsals, table service and management of the tureen dinner; Miss Miriam Clinefelter of the senior high Girl Reserve club, for the making of programs with names of each tableau and the clubs which are presenting them; Miss Mary Saloki of the True Blue Circle and Mrs. Roy Long were appointed to look after the making and serving of the coffee; Mrs. DeLorenzo and the Italian Mothers club for covering tables and assigning table space; June Haven of the George Washington Girl Reserve club for selection of songs for group singing; June Adams of the Good Will Graduate club for securing music during the tableaux; Mrs. Mabel Rankin and Elm street branch for making and selling tickets; and Betty Raney and Ben Franklin Girl Reserve club for ushering.

On the program committee for the all association dinner also were Rebecca Muldrow from Joy Gives club, Mrs. Opal Jackson of the Eva Bowles club, Cornelia Hiley of senior high girl Reserves, Julianna Merchant of Union high Girl Reserves, Mrs. Glenn Berry and Miss Alice Sterling of the education committee of the Y. W. C. A.
